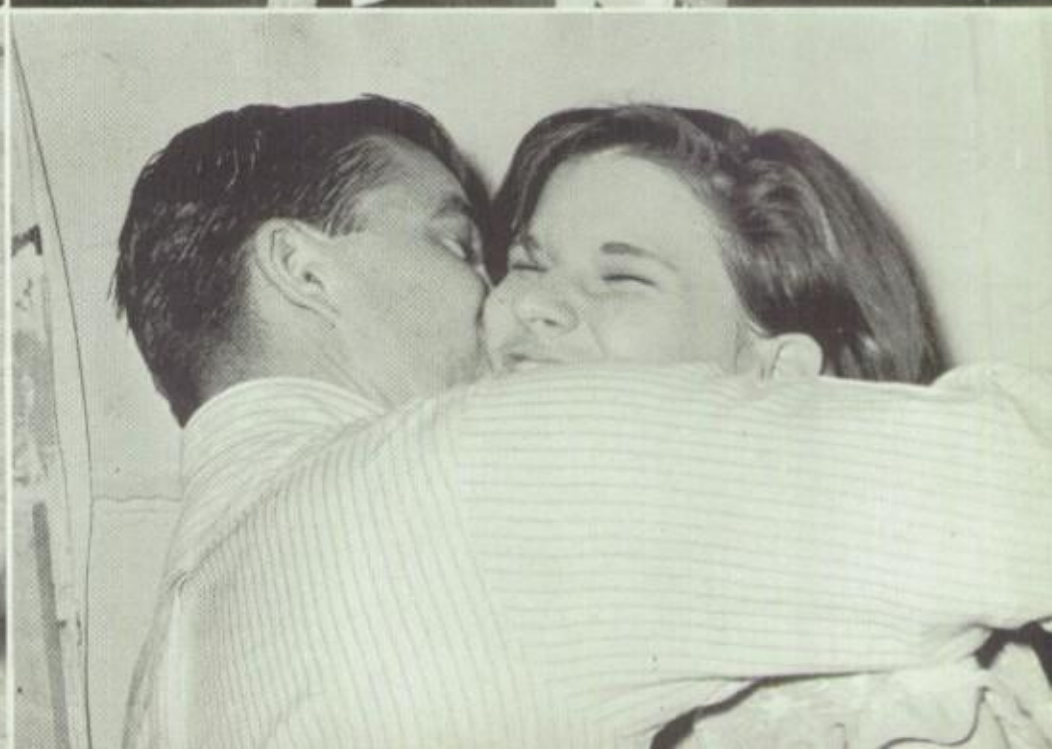
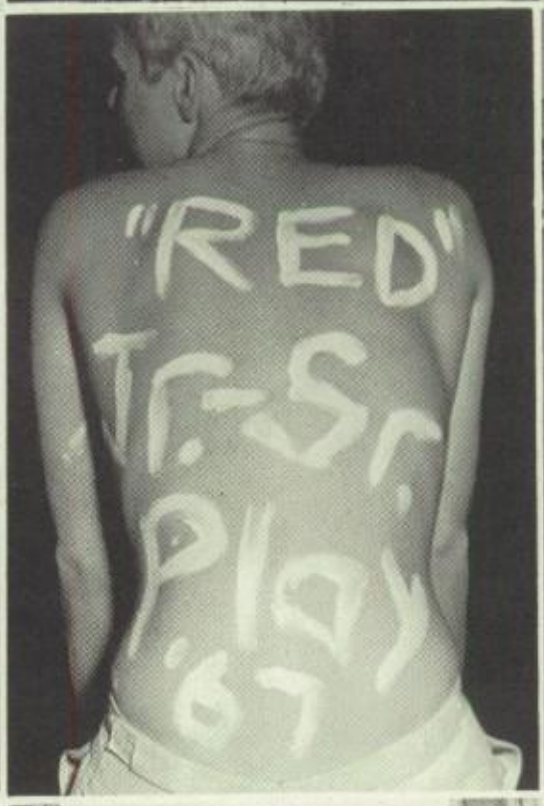
Angleton High School

Angleton, Texas

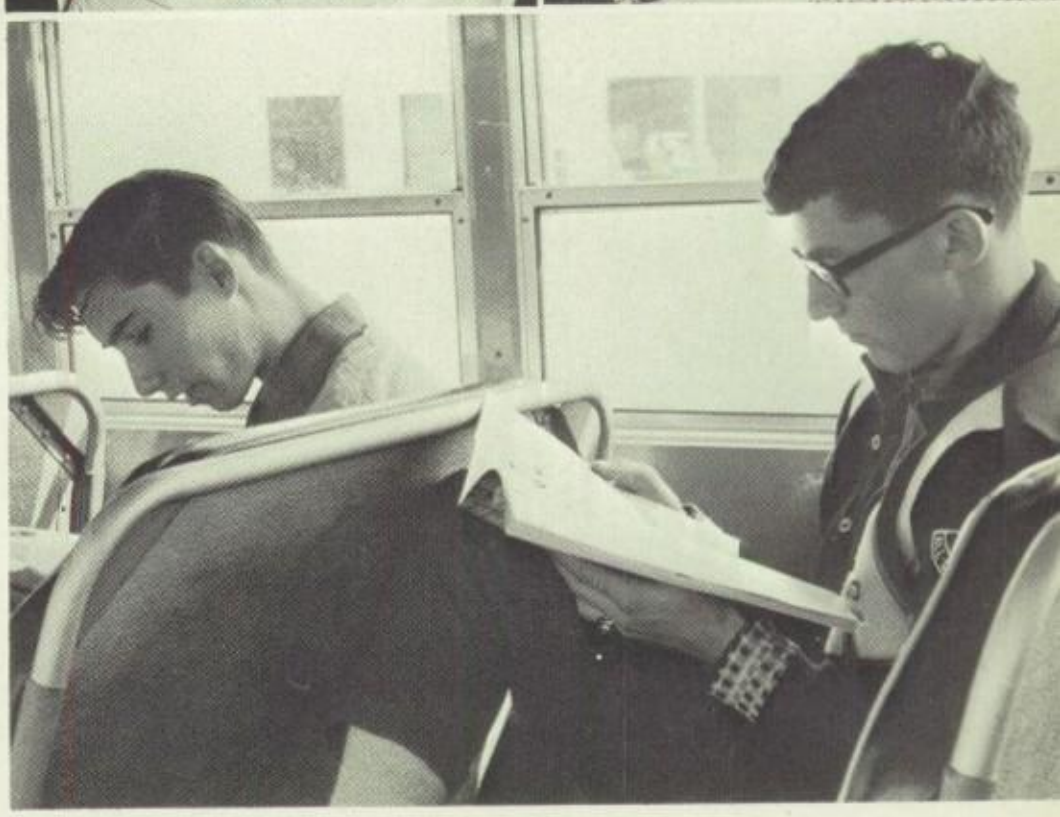
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—brick . . . steel . . . wood . . . patio . . . classrooms . . . parking lots . . . sidewalks.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—principals . . . secretaries . . . teachers . . . coaches . . . boys . . . girls . . . librarians . . . custodians.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—books . . . papers . . . bells . . . cafeteria trays . . . lockers . . . boards . . . desks . . . chalk.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—English . . . gym . . . biology . . . typing . . . agriculture . . . speech . . . civics . . .math.

ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—basketball . . . football . . . track . . . proms . . . plays . . . banquets . . . elections . . . awards.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—ribbons . . . themes . . . annuals . . . corsages . . . pom-poms . . . batons . . . projects . . . trophies.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—smiles . . . whispers . . . footsteps . . . waves . . . shouts . . . laughter . . . thoughts.
ANGLETON HIGH SCHOOL—or just any high school? These are common things; thousands of schools share them. They alone do not make Angleton our high school.





Change it around. Spell "Angleton Senior High" across a section of brick. Fill the parking lots with cars like David Hurta's Cougar and Butch Flippo's Ford. Have Mrs. Whitton in the office filling out blue slips. Place Shelly and Randy side by side on the patio. Beat LaPorte 7-1 in baseball. Sit spellbound in a Rubinoff assembly. Listen to the rattle of Bobby Cook filling candy machines. Pledge allegiance to the flag in assembly. Work out hard and late in football training. Buy a Tattler from Mildred Jenkins on a Thursday. Win a 1st division in a band contest.

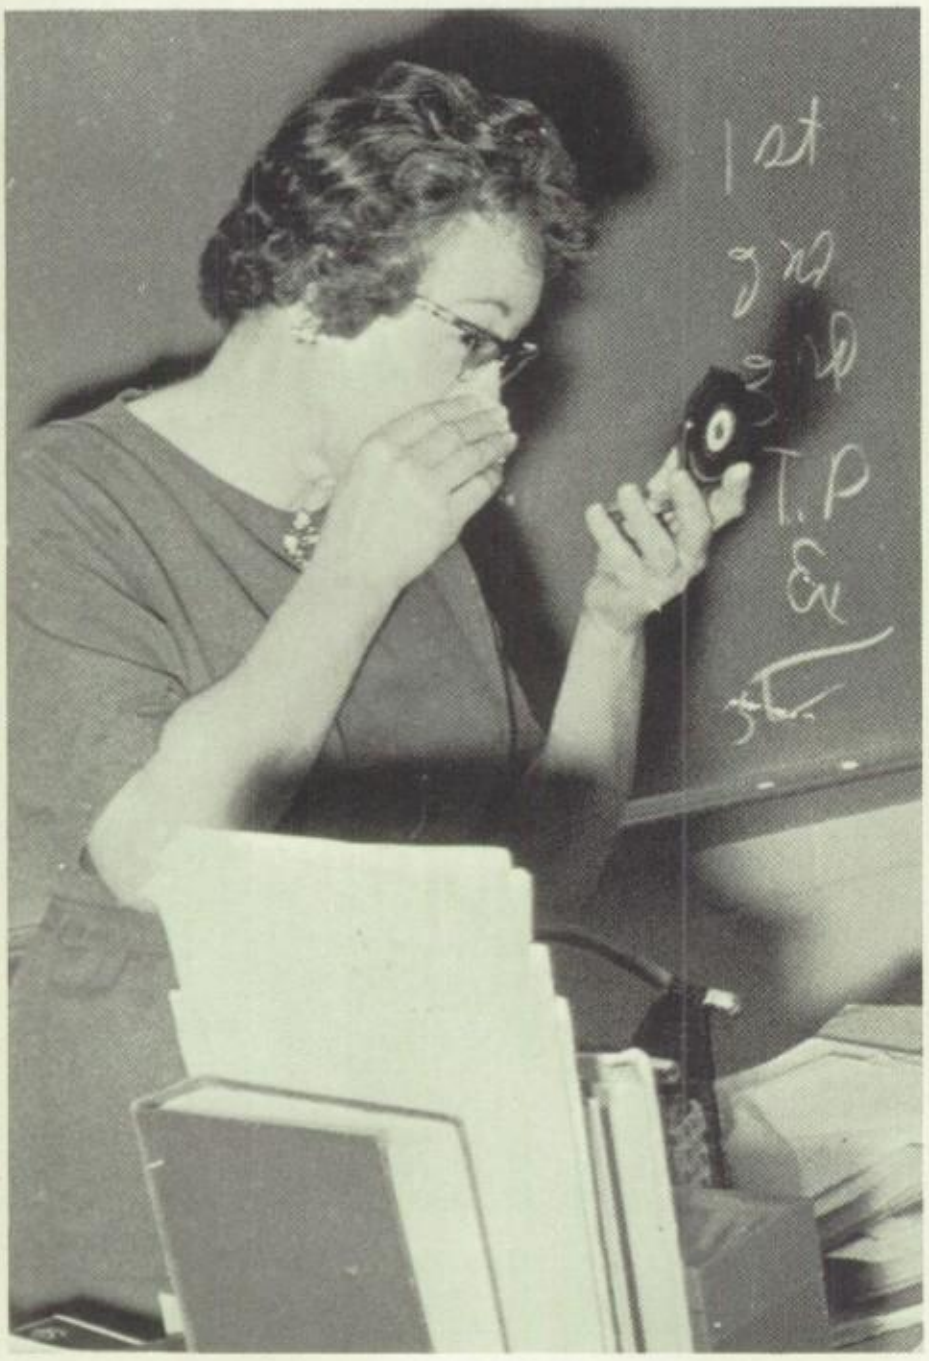


Sculptor grapes for prom decorations. Stand nervously backstage with John Brockman on the opening night of "Our Town." Wear George McGowen's senior ring. Copy a geometry problem from Penny Oglesby. Laugh when Randy Willis cracks a joke in the dressing room. Have Mrs. Thompson write "excellent" on the top of your theme. Yell loud so the sophomores can claim the Victory Stick. Sing our school song with tears in your eyes. Stand with your classmates for the last time on graduation night.

Then you have what changes a mere high school into Angleton High School. Then you have . . . PERSONALITY!

The Personality of One Who Teaches . . .

Mrs. Wilson takes a break in between classes.



Yes, the personality of a school is composed of hundreds of little details and incidents. Students and teachers alike are all part of the huge spirit that we know of as Angleton High School. But sometimes there is a person that stands out in the crowd. Sometimes there is a teacher with the personality that is the trademark of a school. Such a person is Mrs. Merle Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson has worked for us and with us; she has given generously of her time and wisdom. By encouraging us to develop our talents, she has made our lives more enjoyable. Our insight has been deepened, and our knowledge magnified by one who will forever remain bold in our memory.

She is an outstanding example of the all-around ideal American who upholds the creed of every true American in her daily life. She has been in the Angleton School System for 12 years and has taught Senior English for 9 of these. Mrs. Wilson is a member of the First Baptist Church where she teaches a Sunday School class. Her family is an example of her high standards and ideals.

We, the ANGLE STAFF, proudly dedicate the 1967 ANGLE to Mrs. Merle Wilson.

ANGLETON IS THE PERSONALITY OF ITS ACTIVITIES

The spirit of personality is evolved through activities which, to all appearances, are quite irrelevant but actually are conducive to spontaneity and an ability to work with others in later life. Fellowship combined with knowledge—develop significant relationships. Unity in spirit and enthusiasm contribute to the growth of the students and to Angleton.

Thirty days hath September . . .

September brings with it the old, the familiar, and the new . . . Bells ringing in between classes, class rushes, old friends and new ones, pep rallies, football games, and VICTORY DANCES.

Classes begin and students get back into the grind of school life. What are you doing, Maura?

Band begins its excellent performances. Kay Melbert lends assistance on the xylophone.

After each home game there is a victory Dance. These boys keep everybody busy dancing with their music.

Pat Donham and Lee McCulley received the student of the month award given by the National Honor Society.

October follows with fair & fun

The bright spot of the fair is the selection of the Fair Queen. Claudine Blanchard was runner-up as Angleton Fair Queen representative.

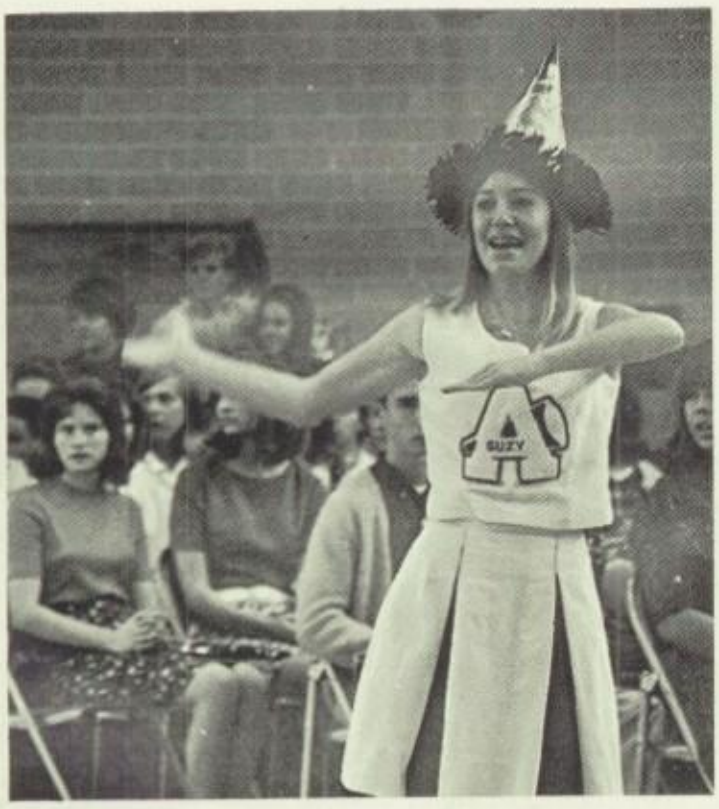
David Hurta and Torbett Clements ride in the colorful parade. David was Claudine's escort.

With the fair and Halloween there was never a dull moment in October. Students were busy building A.H.S.'s float, going to the fair, and participating in the spirited Halloween pep rally.

Roy Jones, Sr. at A.H.S., hammers away on the Queen's float. Many Seniors helped build the float for the parade.

Other carpenters building the float are Cheryl Macon and Sharon Heffernan.



Suzy Munson, B team cheerleader, tries to scare the bad spirits away during a Halloween pep rally.

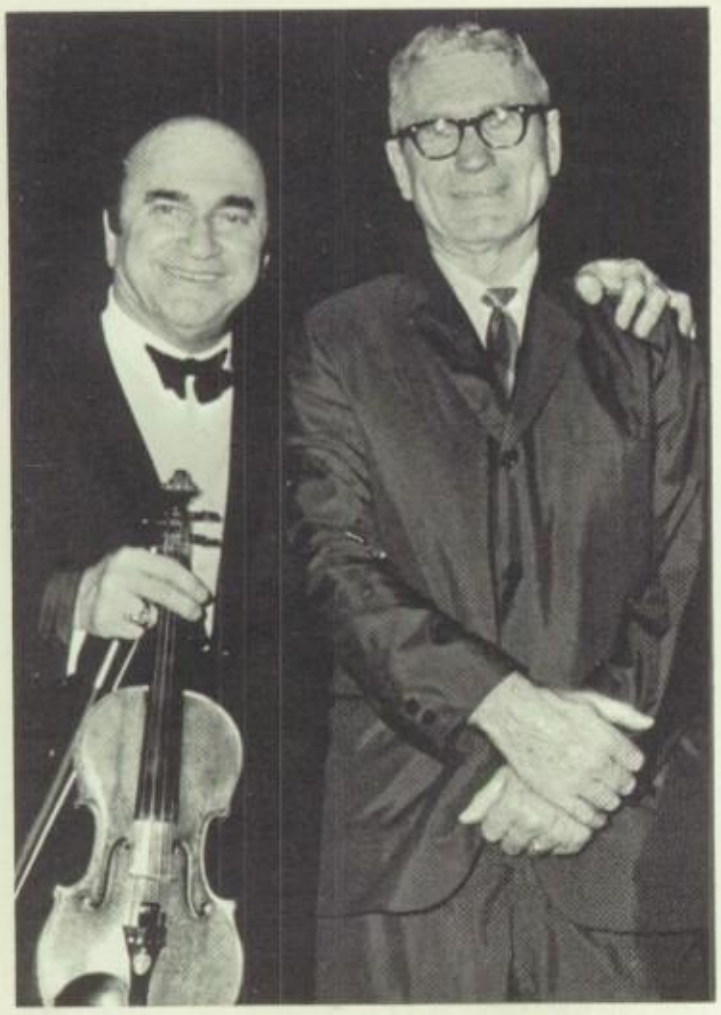
February Brings Many Activities . . .

Although February is the shortest month of the year, it had many, many activities. Basketball was still going strong with the district games coming up. Rubinoff supplied us with fine musical entertainment during an assembly. The King and Queen of Hearts were selected at the Valentine Dance. And the Juniors and Seniors put on a play, Our Town, by Thornton Wilder, which played for three successful nights.



Mr. Muldrow poses with famous violinist, Rubinoff, after his performance in assembly.

Torbett Shoots two points through the basket.

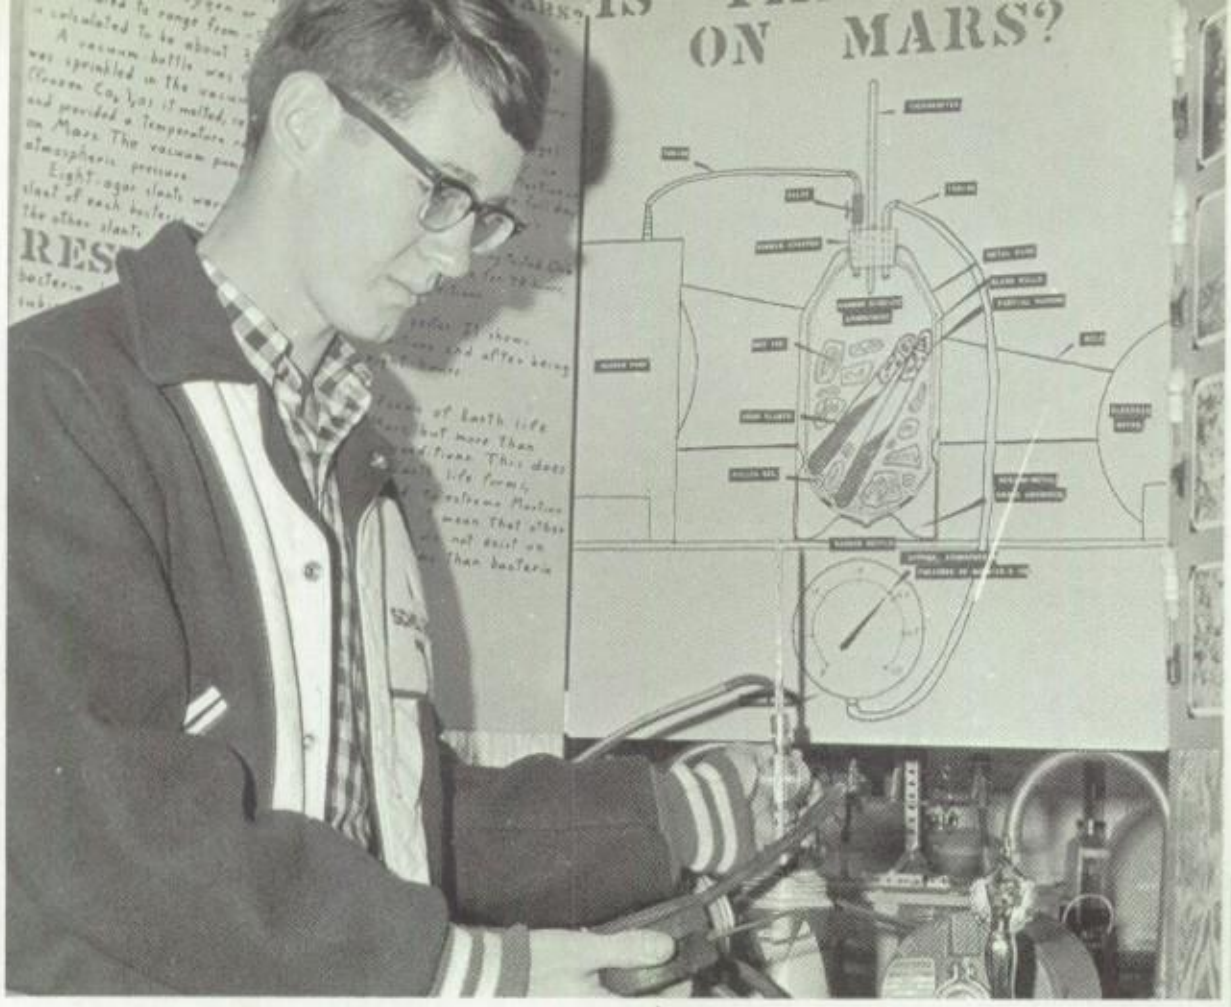
Senior Richard Carter and Freshman Mary Jamison were crowned King and Queen of Hearts during the Valentine Dance ceremonies.

Letha Bell presides over the "tea" held for the Jr. High girls.

The actors in the play, Our Town, mourn over the death of Emily Webb played by Betty Macik.

Students of the month were Judy Easly and Rick Green.

March Winds Bring



Roland Borey won Grand Prize in the annual Science Fair. His project—Is There Life On Mars?

Students of the month of March were Sophomores Katy Jacobson and Marlin Fisher.

The Juniors worked diligently to give the Seniors a unique banquet & prom with a Grecian theme.

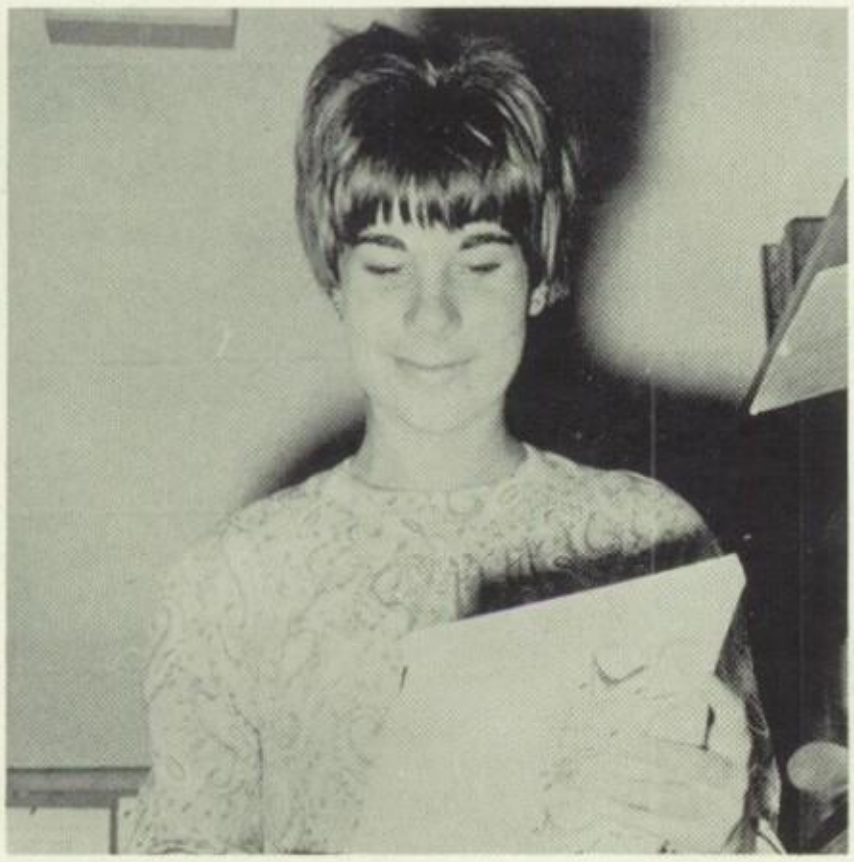
Baseball Begins.

Students created costumes and decorations for a successful Latin Banquet.

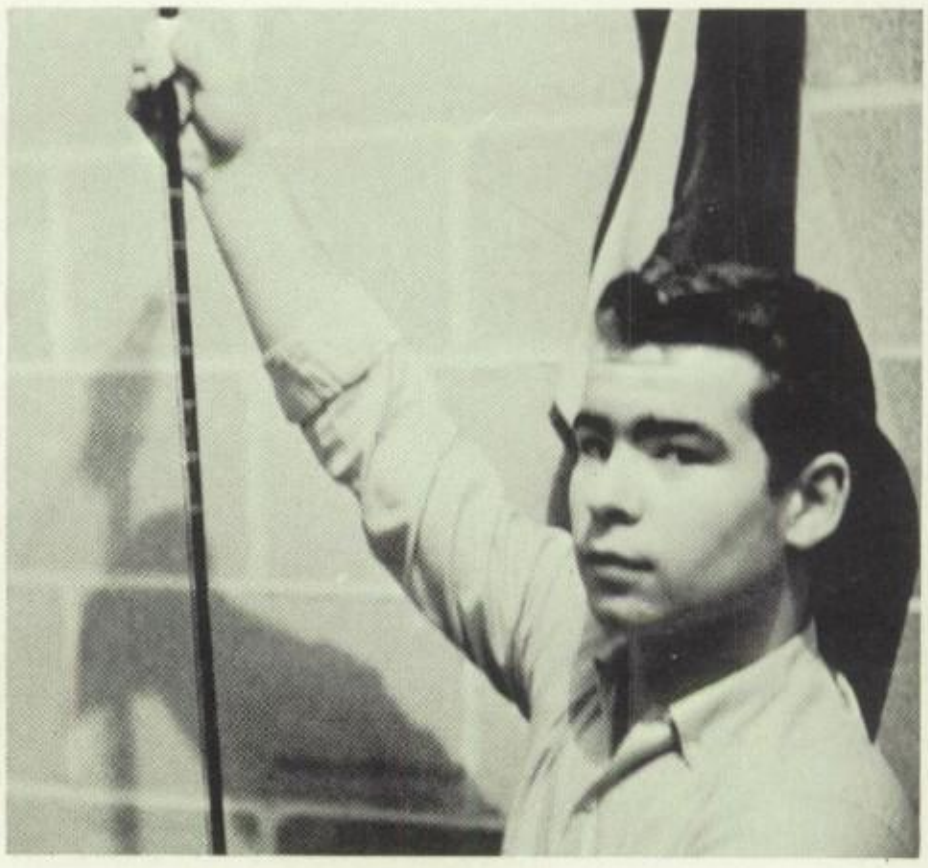
Del and Cary do a fine job in the 1-Act play "Of Mice and Men."

April Opens the door to Spring . . .

April was a busy month for Angleton High Schoolers. Girls went to cheerleading clinic and from the approximate 20 that attended varsity cheerleaders were chosen. The band trip came around and band students left for Corpus Christi. Track and baseball continued. We look forward to next month as being the last one for this school year.



Sammie Plummer is working hard to finish by deadline.

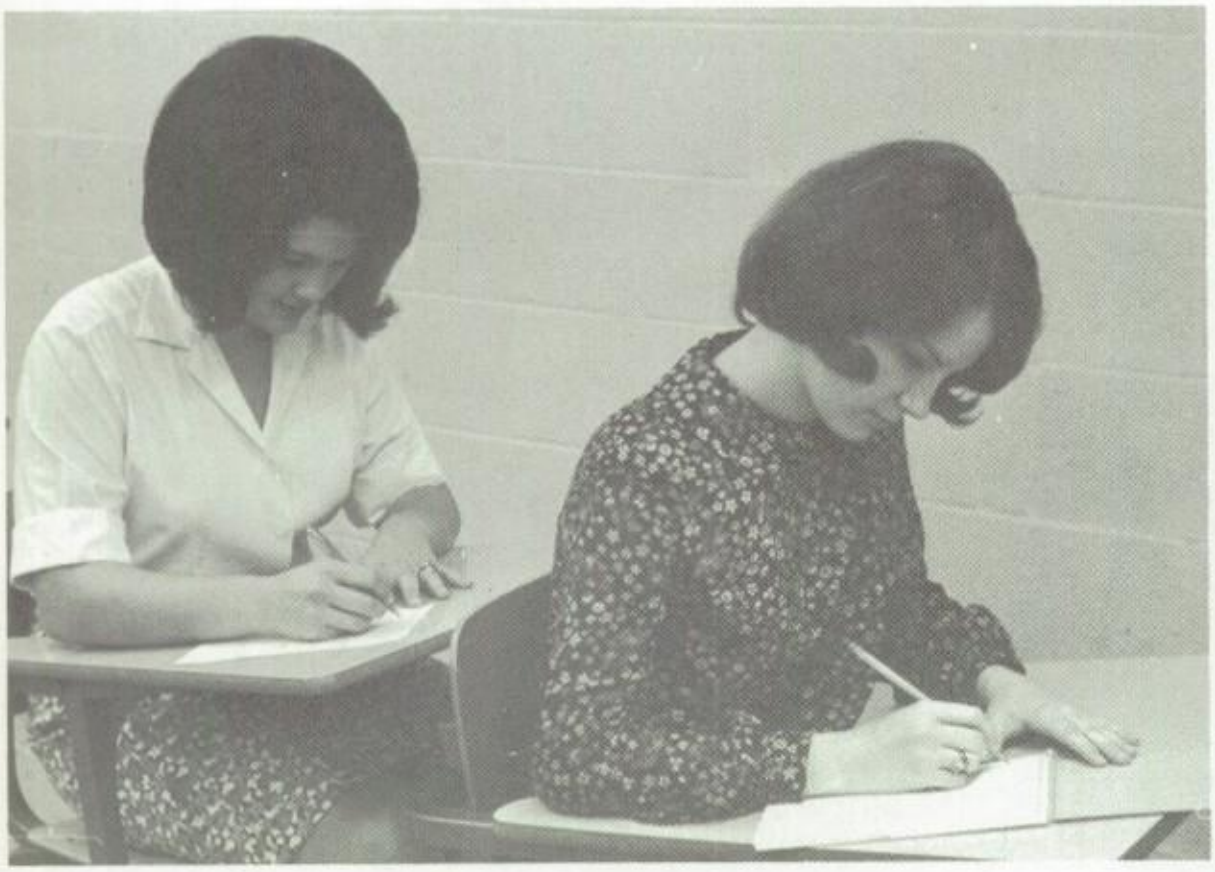


J. W. Rhyne works in the dark-room developing pictures.

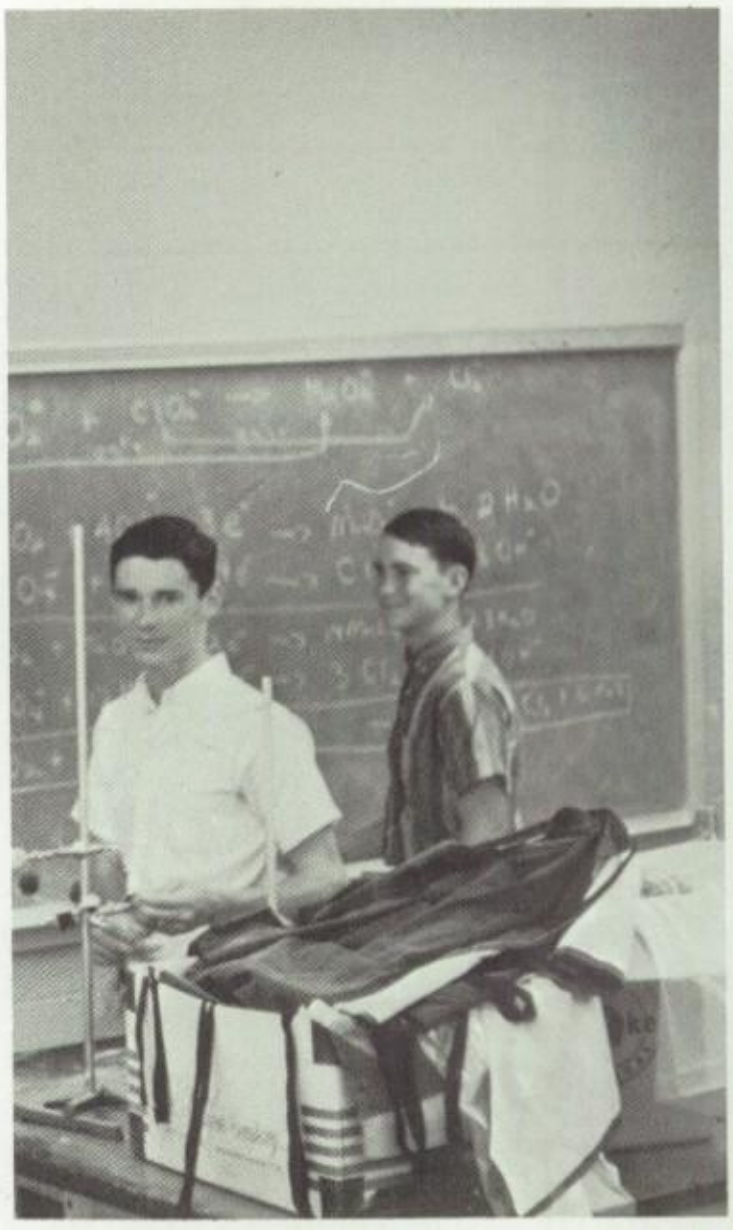
A.H.S. baseball players hard at work, before or after?

Poor Linda Compton. The boat ride at the band trip was too much for her.

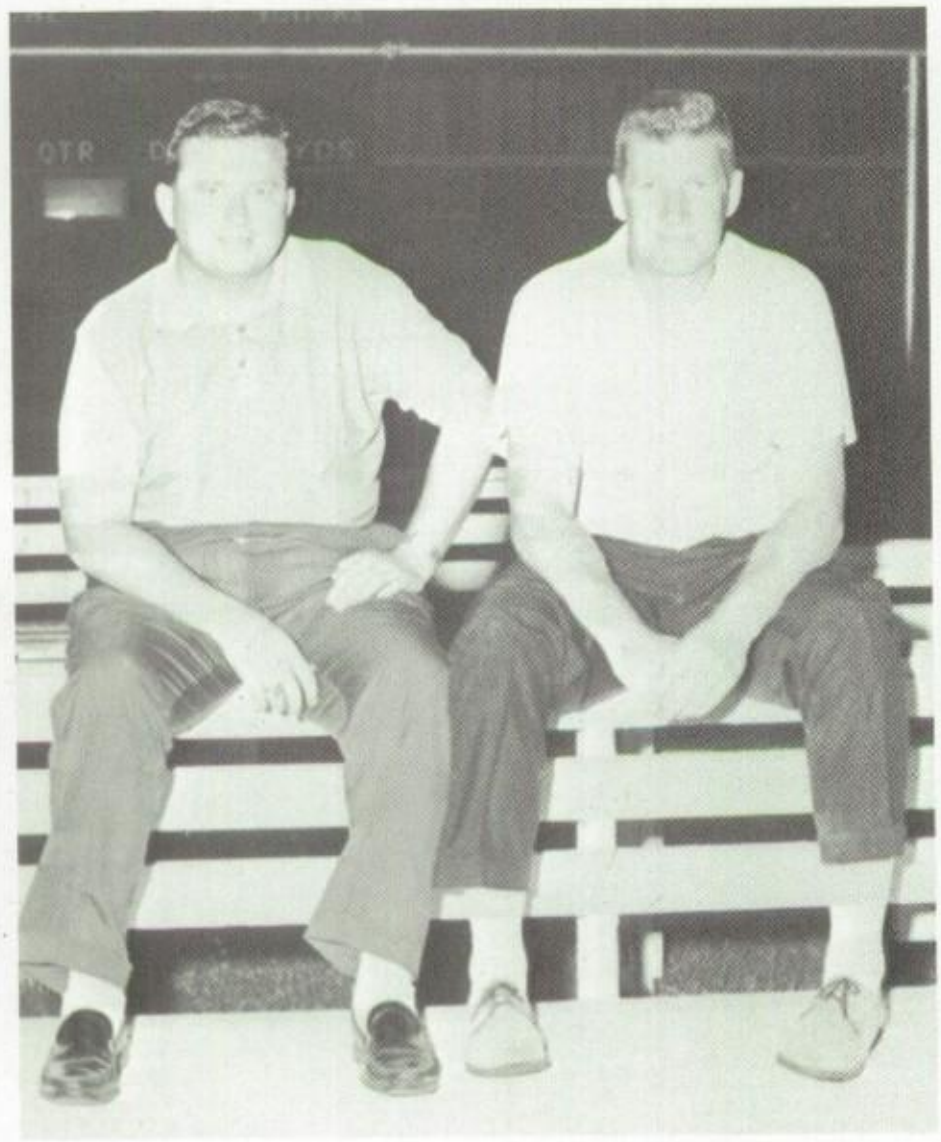
May Brings . . .



Seniors begin studying early for exams.



Under Classmen work harder for last minute "good grades".



Coaches get spring fever . . .

MAY ARRIVES AT LAST! With it comes the excitement of Senior parties, the laughter of kid day, and the cramming for finals. Seniors look for jobs, Juniors wait for their Senior rings to come in, and Sophomores & Freshmen step up a bit.

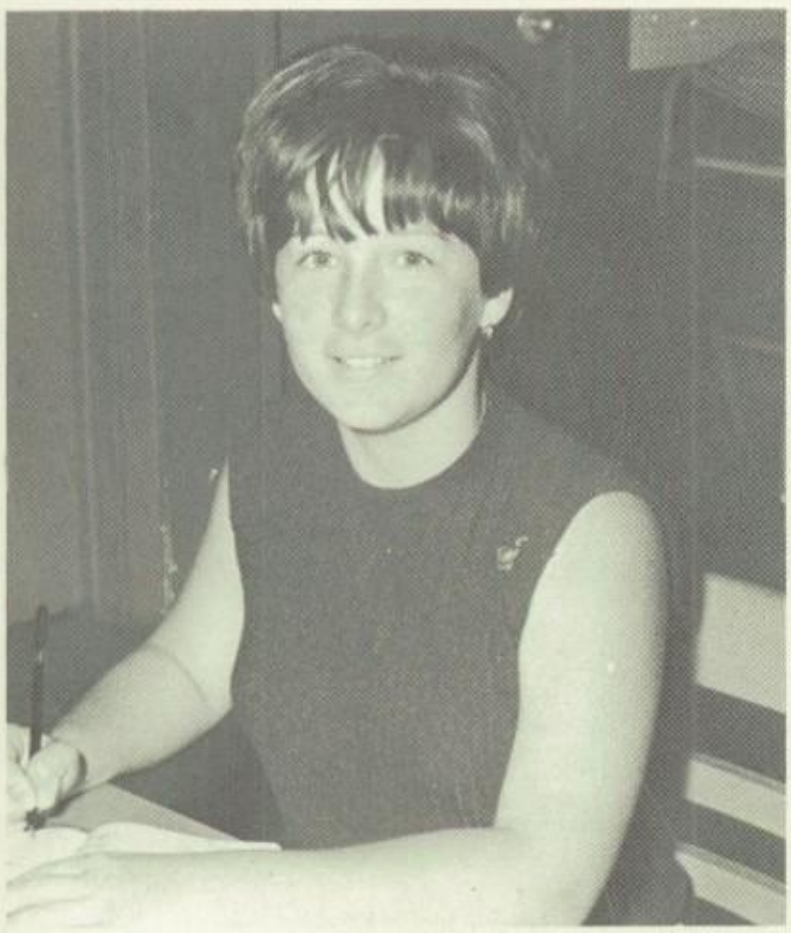
The climax of this month is graduation . . .

School is out!

Glen Hardwick won first place at the Texas Industrial Arts Fair for the General Woodworking I Test. He won this plaque in regional competition.

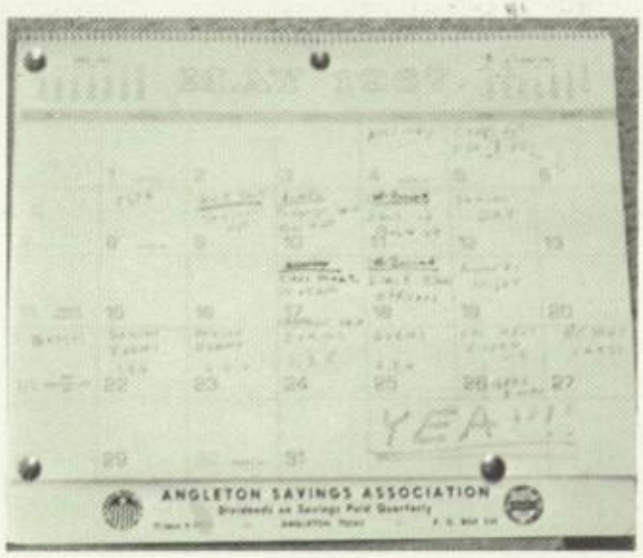
Work continues on the Memorial Garden.

Awards Night arrives and Melinda Wilson waits to receive hers.



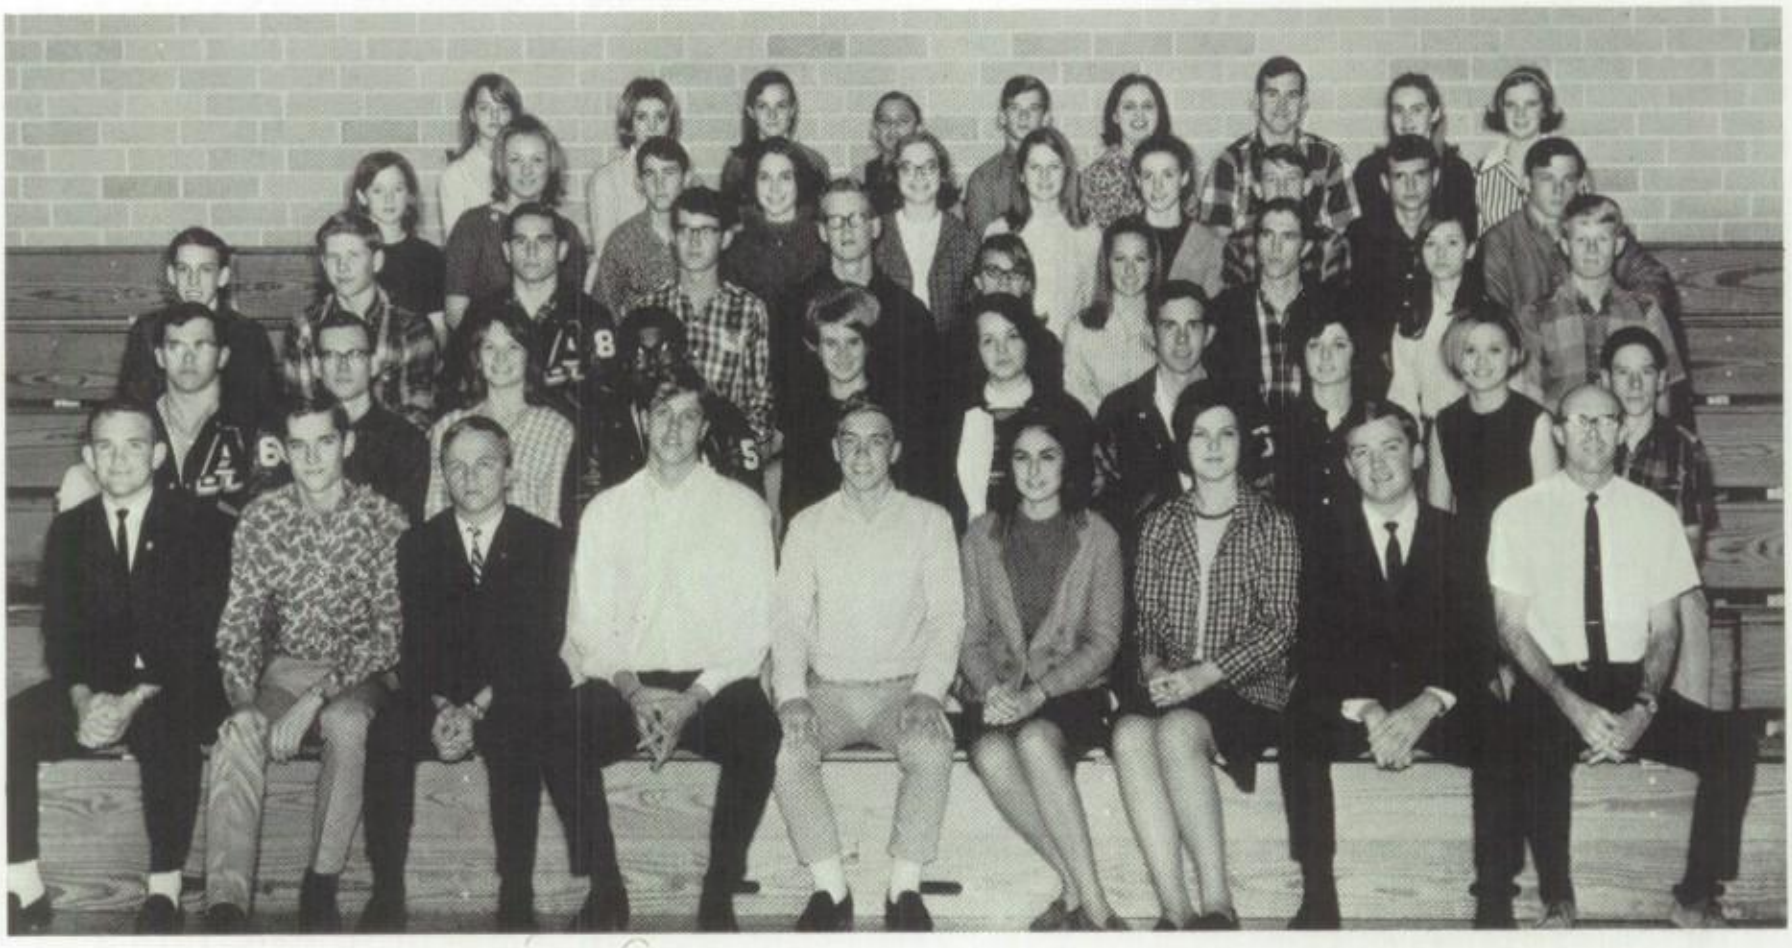
Mildred Jenkins works hard to help produce the final edition of the Tattler dedicated to the Seniors of '67.

Joy And Happiness



Even the teachers await the end of school as illustrated by the Calendar.

Graduation comes at last!



Members of the Student Council with sponsor John Craven.

Turner Shell, Murphy Rankin, Wayne Turner, Charles Stewart, and J. W. Rhyne give a helping hand in getting the Memorial Garden ready.

Council

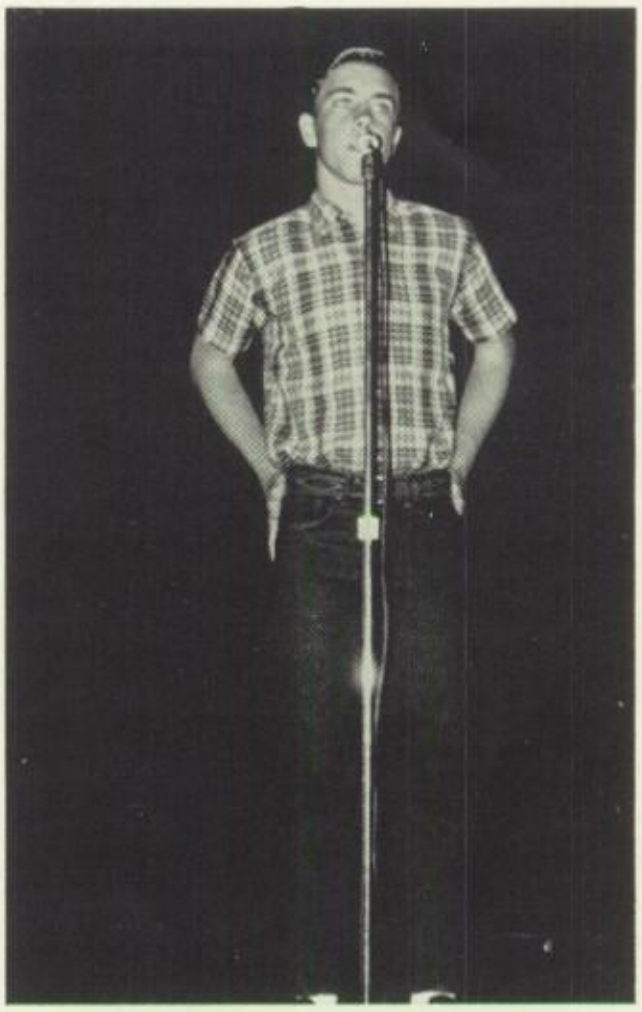
The main purpose of the Student Council is to represent the student body in its opinions and needs. It is a media between faculty and students.

Some of the projects of the council this year have been the operation of candy machines; three annual dances, Homecoming, Valentine, and Twirp; school wide elections; and coordination of the Memorial Garden projects.

The president of the student body is Jerry Benedict. Presiding as Vice President is Stan McGee, whose job is to assist Jerry in all activities of the Student Council. Secretary and Treasurer are Claudene Blanchard and Doyle Neighbors. Parliamentarian, Otis Carrol, keeps order at all meetings, usually consisting of forty five council members. David Hurta, reporter and projects committee chairman, is responsible for all council projects.

Throughout the year some of the council members attended numerous conventions. Some delegates were chosen to attend the state convention in Laredo.

This present school year the council served as the President school of the Southeast Gulf Coast District of Student Councils. They were elected at the spring meeting to serve next year as Parliamentarian school.



Jerry Benedict, President of the Student Council, addresses the student body of Angleton High School during an assembly.

Otis Carroll, Doyle Neighbours, Keith Smith, Steve Scott, John Brantley, Rick Green, and Kenneth McGowan with their picks and shovels clear the ground in preparing the Memorial Garden.

National Honor Society

New NHS Students stand and wait during their installment.

The National Honor Society was formed to create enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate desire to render service, promote worthy leadership, and encourage development of character in A. H. S. students. Their special projects were tutoring students needing extra help and Student of the Month and Year to recognize outstanding students. Roland Borey was 2nd Vice-President of the State Association of the N. H. S. Delbert Burkett was a finalist in the N. H. S. Scholarship Program.

The President of N. H. S. was Delbert Burkett and Jimmy Condry was Vice-President. Other offices were held by Susan Kee, Secretary; Eddie Jacobson, Treasurer; and Kay Melbert, Reporter. Mrs. Tvedt and Mrs. Dorman were sponsors.

Roland Borey awaits his pen from Rose Berryhill.

Del Galaznick makes a speech at the NHS program.

Industrial Cooperative Training

Under the leadership of Mr. Jesse Bates, the ICT is able to secure jobs for students during high school and in the future. The ICT members go to school half-of a day and then go to their jobs the other half. Mr. Bates observes the work of these students for future employment.

MELINDA WILSON

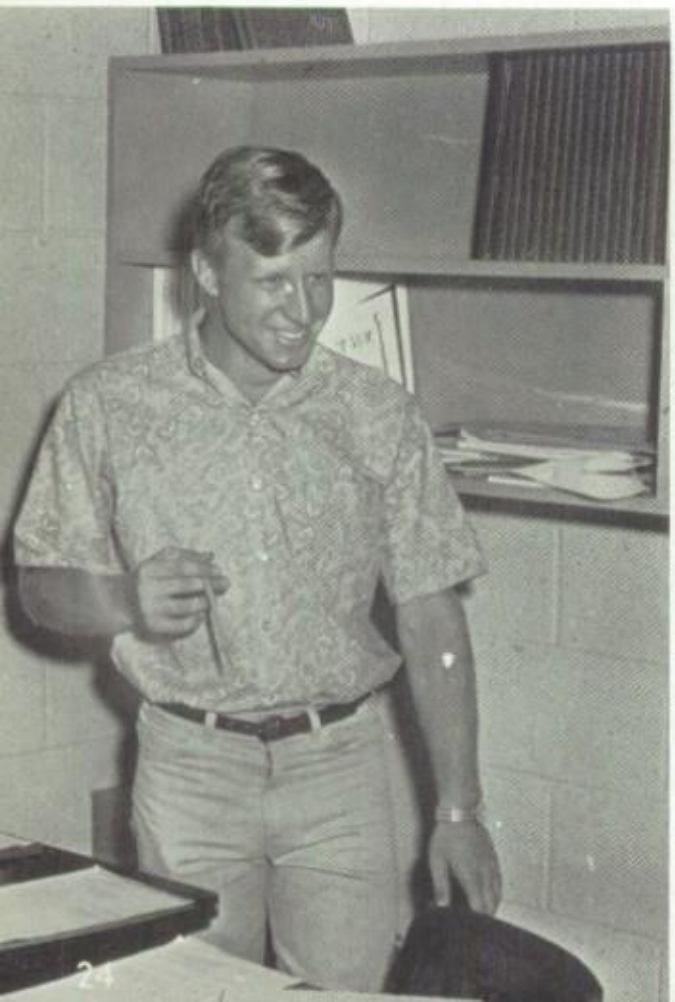
Boys And Girls State

Melinda and Delbert were chosen on scholastic and patriotic qualities. During the ten day convention held in Austin; they learned about the many facets of the American government.

DELBERT BURKETT

The 1967 Angle Staff

THIS YEAR THE ANGLE STAFF has had 15 members including 4 Seniors, Gene Morrison, editor, Stan McGee, Assistant editor, Jimmy Hail and J. W. Rhyne, both photographers; 7 Juniors, Rose Berryhill, Business manager, Kathy Gomer, Carolyn Bednarz, Cynthia Vacek, Kathy Valijura, Stephen Vaughan, and Roland Borey, both photographers. During the last semester we had two new photographers join the staff. They were Jake Fuchs and Dean Salisbury, who are also Juniors; Sophomores, Sammie Plummer, Holly Harris, Betty Condry, Lynn Bergen, and new photographer, Curtis Cryer.



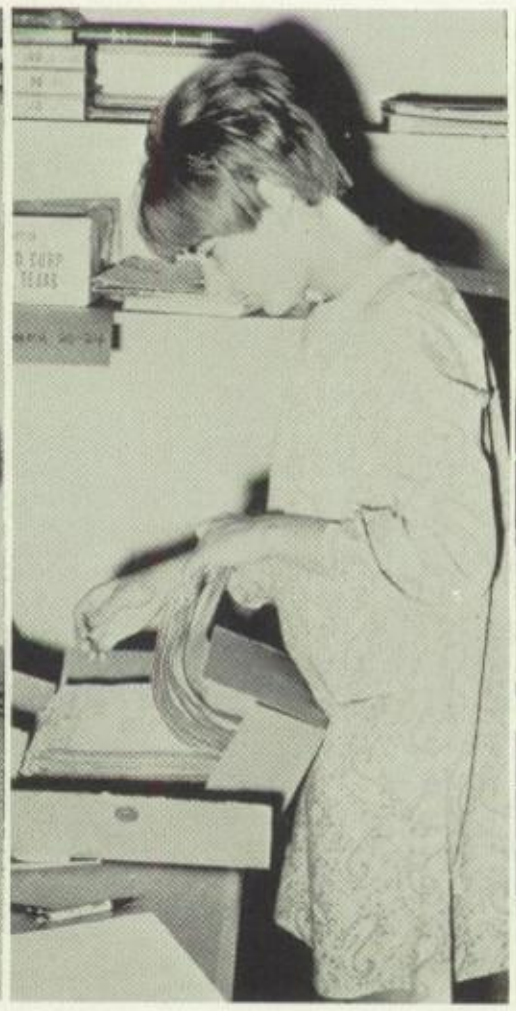
Working on the Angle every day during first period, Gene Morrison, left and Rose Berryhill, right enjoy making the yearbook even though it requires much hard work and a great deal of their own time.

Stan McGee has been an asset to the staff this year for his work on the sports pages.

Kathy Valijura, a 2-year member of the staff, spends most of her time typing and laying out classes pages.

Carolyn Bednarz, a 1-year member, has made the teacher's section an outstanding one.

Holly Harris, a 1-year member, has been one of the top in selling advertisements.



Sammie Plummer, a 1-year member, has also been a top ad seller.

Betty Condry, a 1-year member, is one of the most well-liked staff members. She is willing to help when needed.

Right: Without Roland Borey as one of our photographers we would not have had much of an Angle. He sacrificed food, studies, dates and time to help make and develop our pictures.

Mrs. Winder, one of our sponsors, helps Betty Condry with a layout.

The Tattler Club

Front: Theresa White, Mildred Jenkins, Jane Clayton, Jan Mock, Margaret Hammond. Second Row: Leeland Demming, Mary Lynn Lostracco, P. M. Clinton, Cynthia Cooper, Webb Bailey, Glenda Bagley, Lee McCulley, David Stedman, Janice Randle, Mrs. Doris Mock (Sponsor).

Mrs. Mock—Sponsor works very hard on our school project.

Bunny and Mildred plan together as the editor and the business manager should.

Mary Lynn Lostrocco feature editor, keeps abreast of the latest in fads and fashion.

Typists, Glenda Bagley, Cynthia Cooper, and Janice Randall worked hard to get the paper ready for publication.

THE TATTLER CLUB members have worked very hard under the leadership Mrs. Mock gathering facts to keep the students of AHS well informed.

During the year members have attended several meetings. They learned the latest about fashion at Foley's Fashion Forum. Club members also attended a beneficial UIL workshop at the University of Houston. Previously Bunny White, president of the club, won 1st Place Editorial Writing at UIL.

Book And Letters Club

The Book and Letters Club was organized in an effort to improve the library and its use, and to learn more about working together to make the library more efficient. During the year some members attended the district TALA conference in Victoria and the state convention in San Antonio.

Quill And Scroll

The Quill and Scroll Society is an international organization to give recognition to students who have done good work on school publications. The student must be of Junior rank, in the upper third of his class, recommended by the sponsor of the publication and approved by the executive secretary of the society, which has its headquarters at the University of Iowa. Angleton students who meet these requirements and who have worked two years on a school publication may be invited to become a member.

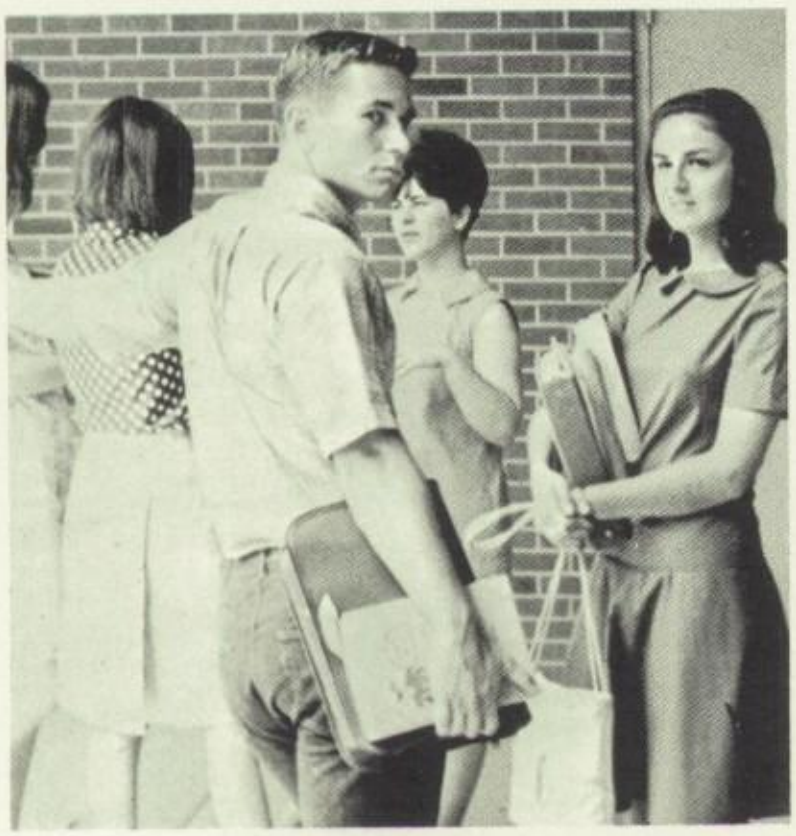
Future Teachers Of America

The Future Teachers Association is designed to create better qualified teachers and leaders. Their goal is to develop and maintain a good relationship between the faculty and students. The F. T. A. Club entertained at the rest home during the Christmas Holidays. Members from the group also substituted for teachers absent for one or two periods in junior high and elementary schools.

The president of F. T. A. was Linda Whatley. Claudine Blanchard served as Vice President. Other officers were Rose Land, Secretary; Linda Plummer, Treasurer; Sharon Heffernan, Parliamentarian; and Betty Schaefer, Reporter.

Sponsor of the group was Mrs. Suzy Trainer, who teaches English III.

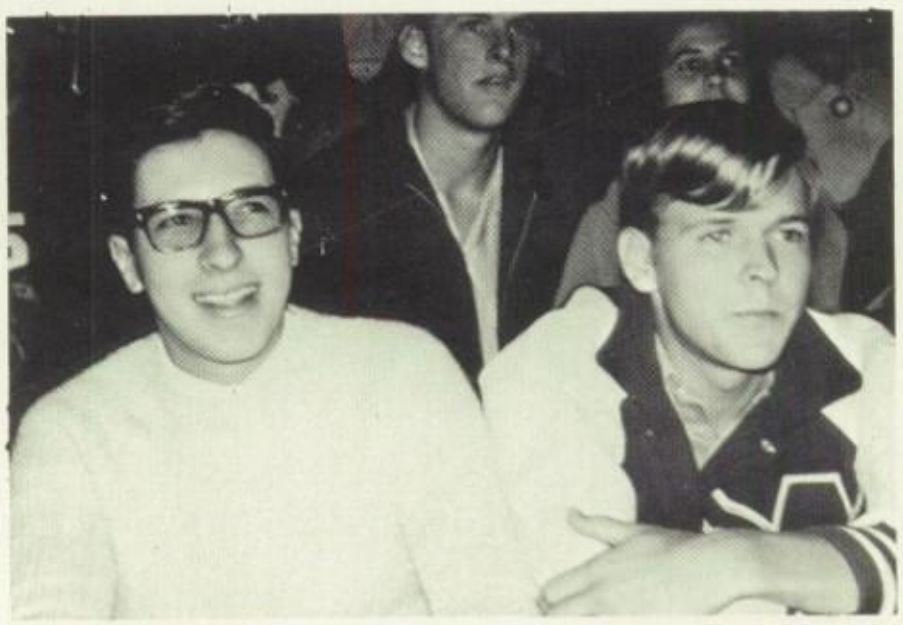
American Field Service



Dilek Karakaplan is the A.F.S. foreign exchange student for the 1966-67 year. She is chatting with Steven Vaughan between classes.

The American Field Service is designed to promote personal student friendships with young people from all over the world. By bringing a student to A. H. S. every year American good will is spread through an academic and social program. A fund raising project, the presentation of the movie, "The King and I" pays for the foreign students' traveling expenses.

Linda Whatley served as President and Rick Green as Vice President. Other officers were Ronnie Rogers, Secretary; Jan Caldwell, Treasurer; Lucy Brown, Reporter; and John Gilbert, Parliamentarian.



Walter Rodriquez sits with Bill Giesecke at a baseball game. Walter is a foreign exchange student from Brazil staying for a week at the Gieseckes.

Boys "A" Club

"A" Club officers for this year were: President, Gene Morrison; Vice-President, Don Stewart; Secretary - Treasurer, James Condry. During football season the "A" Club members and sponsor, Coach Johnson, go over the scout reports of the enemy team for the game on Friday. Not all of the club's business is work, for they have Barbeques AND the older lettermen have a chance to initiate the new letterman.

Girls "A" Club

Girls "A" Club officers: President, Linda Brothers: Vice President, Sharon Little; Secretary Jeanie Newman; Treasurer Carole Yoes; Sergeant-of-Arms, Janice Chamberlain. One of the projects of the "A" Club was selling booster flags for car radio antennaes during football season. The painted signs that hung in the gym during the pep rallies were made by the industrious "A" Club girls. A picnic, with new members supplying the food, was part of their initiation activities.

Bernard Peck served as president of the Science Club. Ray Hodges was vice-president and Jeannie Brewster was secretary and treasurer. Faculty sponsors were Mr. Kurth and Mr. Long. Mr. Gene Long, Jeannie Brewster, Delbert Galazik, Bernard Peck, Ray Hodges, Paul Bartholme, Jake Fuchs, Dean Salisbury, Larry Robinette, Mr. Leslie Kurth.

Science Club

This was a productive year for the Science Club. On January 14, the group attended the Bay Area Heart Association meeting in Galveston. Next there was a Saturday tour of Dow where the members were given lab demonstrations. On April 1, they went to Houston where several students had entries in the Greater Houston Science Fair.

The Angleton Science Fair, on March 4, was a project this group helped support. About 263 student entries were judged. Roland Borey won the Grand Award and Jeannie Brewster won the runner-up Grand Award. Jake Fuchs, another club member, won a second place with his project "Fallout".

The 1967 Symphonic Band

Kay entertains the crowd during halftime.

The Angleton High School Wildcat Band began the 1966-1967 school year with a summer program begun in August. The band was under the direction of Mr. Don Hood assisted by Mr. Karl Hickfang. The following officers were elected by the band members: Curtis Webster, president; David Maynard, vice-president; Rita Stawarzk, secretary; Patsy Clark, treasurer; Bunny White, reporter and historian; and Melodee Yoes, Librarian.

The band ended the marching season with a first place trophy won at the U. I. L. Marching Contest.

Patsy Clark was elected by secret ballot as the band sweetheart.

During the Concert season the band separated into the Symphonic Band directed by Mr. Hood and the Concert Band directed by Mr. Hickfang. The Symphonic Band received a first place award at the U.I.L. Concert Performance Contest and was chosen unanimously by band directors in the surrounding area as the Region III Honor Band and representative for State Honor Band.

The Band played at Pep Rallies every Friday.

"Of Mice and Men" One-Act Play

Angleton's entry in the Interscholastic One-Act Play contest was a cutting from John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men". The cast did not place in the district meet but were credited with having an excellent production. The scene they used was the very dramatic one in which Lenny, a mentally retarded boy, kills a ranch hand's wife and is brutally hunted and shot.

Cary Burkett starred in the role of Lenny. Del Galaznik played the part of George, the companion that is compelled to kill him. Curley's Wife was played by Betty Macik, a three year veteran of the contest play who was an All-Star Cast member in 1966. Glen Hardwick, David Stedman, John Cahill, and Luther Goff were cast as ranch hands. Bunny White was the light and sound director.

Mr. Mickey Trainer directed the play. His 1966 play, "The Miracle Worker" was the runner-up in the state meet.

"Our Town" Was A Success

The Junior-Senior class play, "Our Town", ran for three successful nights in February. Mr. Mickey Trainer, director, achieved some unusual effects with original stage sets and costumes. John Brockman, stage manager, led the audience through three eras in the life of the people of Grover's Corners, N.H.

Excellent characterizations of the Webb and Gibbs families were shown by Stan McGee (Dr. Gibbs), Bunny White (Mrs. Gibbs), Doyle Neighbors (George Gibbs), Debbie Wehrly (Rebecca Gibbs), Kay Melbert (Mrs. Webb), Del Galaznik (Mr. Webb), Betty Macik (Emily Webb), and Robert Riggle (Wally Webb). Other characters were played by John Cahill (Joe Crowell), Bill Bingham (Howie Newsome), Steve Vaughan (Professor Willard), Rick Green (Simpon Simpson), Frances Sykes (Mrs. Soames), Richard Perry (Constable Warren), Jake Fuchs (Si Crowell), James Morrow (Sam Craig), and Otis Carroll (Joe Stoddard). People in the auditorium were played by Carolyn Bednarz, Sheryl Naumann, and Joe Hazlewood.

Maura Mason and Loutel Duke assisted in play direction. Lights were handled by Gary Barnes and Glen Hardwick. Letha Bell was in charge of sound and Clay Nesbit was set construction chairman. Other committee chairmen were Melinda Wilson (props), Rose Berryhill (boys' make-up), Glenda Bagley (girls' make-up), Nancy Tillman (costumes), Mildred Jenkins (house manager), Linda Plummer (tickets), and Lee McCulley (publicity).

The play was shown in three acts. The first act concerned the history of the town as told by the stage manager and various townspeople. At this time the characters were introduced and shown in their daily life. The second act concerned love and marriage and, more specific, the wedding of George Gibbs and Emily Webb. The third act was an understanding of death. In one of the most dramatic moments of the play, the audience witnessed the funeral of Emily Webb and, through her eyes, achieved a new outlook on life after death.

A Night in Athens

Along with spring came the Junior-Senior prom. Juniors worked weeks in advance to give the Senior class a lovely prom with a Grecian theme. Grapes of all colors hung from Grecian pillars. A fountain flowed in the background and the entire prom was bedecked by colorful flowers.

The evening began at 6:30 with a buffet banquet. The Sr. Wills were read and with the Sr. History, the Seniors relived all the momentous moments in their school career.

At 9:00 p.m. the Grand March began and when the couples broke from the line onto the dance floor, A Night In Athens had truly begun.

When the last song was played and only a few couples were left, the prom ended as gloriously as it had begun, for the juniors had a feeling of satisfaction that the prom was a success.

Senior laughed at the humor in their Wills and History, and shared a feeling, not only of emotion, but one of unity as they realized their bonds of a certain school friendship would soon come to an end.

ANGLETON IS THE PERSONALITY OF ITS PLAYERS

Action and intensity—two key words of personality. They can be seen on the face of a determined player . . . felt in the midst of a team intent on winning and . . . they can be heard in the voice of a football game in a solitary song . . . magnified into the yells of a spirit-roused crowd.

A team which has the proper attitude is the group of young men who will go far. The 1966 Wildcats were characterized by young men who had this type of spirit.

The 1966 Angleton Wildcats of Coach Fred Johnson posted an 8-2 record, the best of any Angleton team since the Golden Years of 1961-62.

Picked no higher than sixth in their conference before the season began, the Wildcats finished up in third place in the final District 11-AAA standings with a 4-2 record.

The banner season had many high points for the Wildcats, who firmly re-established themselves among the states top Class AAA grid powers under the capable guidance of Coach Johnson and his staff, and except for five fumbles and a one point loss, the Wildcats might have walked off with all the marble in this year's title race.

Gators Upset By Wildcats

Angleton 24 Dickinson 0

The Dickinson Gators, who were picked high in the state rankings before the season began, were upset by a fired up group of Wildcats on a rain soaked field.

The Wildcats gave an indication of the type of football they would show their fans in the games to follow the season opener.

Wildcats Blank LaPorte Bulldogs

Angleton's all-district fullback Joe Shelton goes for a long gainer against La Porte.

Angleton's Wildcats made it a clean sweep over their non-district opponents by blanking the La Porte Bulldogs 14-0.

The victory followed a familiar pattern as Angleton's alert, hard-hitting defense contributed to both Wildcat scores and then went on to record another shutout.

Angleton won its district opener 21-15 over West Columbia but the Wildcats suffered the disappointment of being scored on for the first time this season by a scrappy bunch of Roughnecks. Richard Carter, Neil Jasper, Danny Edwards, Gene Morrison, and Eddie Jacobson were standouts for the Wildcats.

Wildcats Sink Dulles Vikings

Fullback Larry Webb carries ball behind blocking of Danny Edwards and Bobby Cook.

Angleton sacked up its second district win in impressive fashion by pushing over three touchdowns and winning 21-7.

Dulles was the pre-season favorite to win the district title but Angleton easily handled the Vikings for their sixth win in a row ano their second in district play.

Gene Morrison evades tackler as blockers arrive.

Joe Shelton, Danny Edwards, James Condry, and Archie Branch were all cited for outstanding work in this week's game.

Other standouts were Richard Carter, Mike Stewart, Johnny Gustavasen, and Larry Webb.

Angleton's potent rushing attack was once again the key to Angleton's victory.

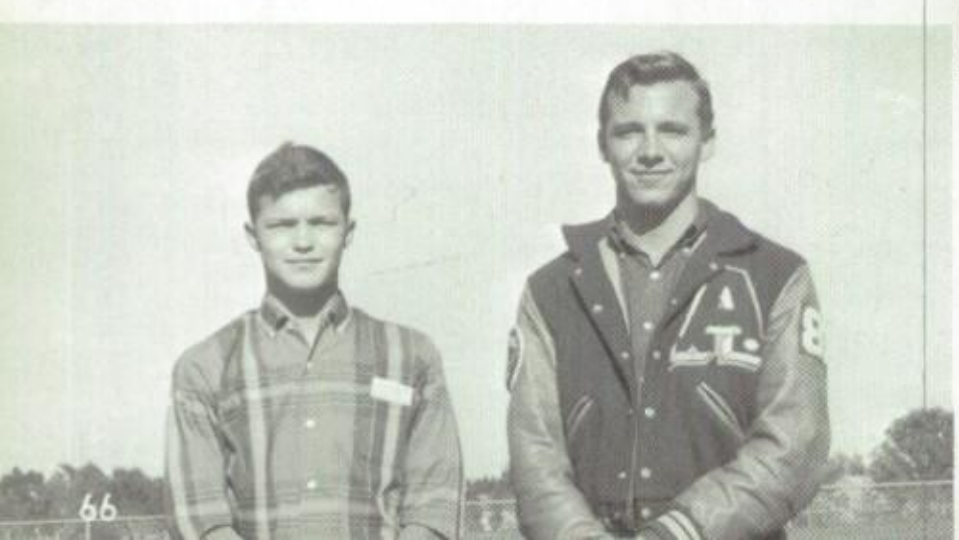
Angleton Wrecks Wharton 42-7

Larry Webb paced the Wildcat's scoring in Angleton's conquest of the Wharton Tigers. Webb scored three touchdowns while Eddie Jacobson threw a touchdown pass to Joe Hazlewood. Joe Shelton also ran for an Angleton score.

Gerald Hendrick moves to foil Wharton pass attempt.

Sterling Harris and Richard Carter close the gate on Wharton



The Angleton defense also proved a thorn in Wharton's side with defensive men Ernest Craft and Ernest Fletcher accounting for tallies.

The game started quickly with both teams going over for quick touchdowns. Angleton, however, soon took command with an overpowering offensive attack combined with a tremendous effort.

In this game of high scoring football all of Coach Johnson's troops saw action in the easy victory for Angleton. This season Angleton fans witnessed many offensive displays such as the Wildcats put on against Wharton.

Ricebirds Edge Wildcats 21-20

Neil Jasper returned the opening kick-off 90 yards for a wildcat score, but the Ricebirds prevailed to win by 21-20. Joe Shelton provided the rest of Angleton's offensive punch by running for two touchdowns on long runs.

Angleton's defense was unable to cope with El Campo's potent running attack. Angleton was for the first time this year faced with a team with better manpower. Angleton was also hampered by a letdown after last week's 13-6 loss to Lamar.

Mike Stewart and Larry Webb close in for the tackle on El Campo's quarterback. The Ricebirds running attack mastered Angleton's defenses.

Angleton Presses Past Bay City 14-0

The Angleton Wildcats closed the book on their 1966 football season by shutting out the Bay City Black Cats 14-0 before an appreciative Homecoming crowd.

The Angleton scoring came on a short plunge by Joe Shelton just before the end of the first half and Jimmy Brashear intercepted a pass and returned it for the score. Bobby Cook tacked on the extra point both times.

Debbie Wehrly, Linda Roesler, Aurita Stawarczik, Jeanie Newman, Judy Beaird, and Patsy Clark.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Linda Roesler served as head cheerleader for the varsity squad this year. In a February assembly Linda and the other girls were presented jackets by Coach Johnson. He complimented the girls on the outstanding job they had done in boosting team morale and keeping school spirit high.

The 1967 cheerleaders were such an enthusiastic group that the kept the school spirit roaring during the sports seasons.

Each week during the football season the girls decorated the players' lockers with colorful cartoons of the coming opponents. Pep banners were placed in the halls. On Friday mornings they held rousing pep rallies in the boys' gym. Each pep rally had a definite theme that was displayed in the decorations, skits, and costumes.

During fair week the girls donned hats and guns for a cowboy and Indian skit with the twirlers. At Halloween they joined forces with the freshmen and junior varsity cheerleaders to produce a program featuring ghosts and candy throwing witches.

This year's greatest pep-booster was the spirit stick contest they sponsored. Students almost ripped off the roof screaming the Victory Yell for their class. Seniors and sophomores led the race. Calamity struck when the seniors lost the stick but the class rallied and constructed a new spirit stick twenty times larger than the old one. At the last pep rally a group of senior girls presented the new stick to the football boys.

Jeanie's a long tall Texan.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

Sandra Journeay, Shelley Roberts, Gwen Hall, Kaye Stawarczik, and Suzy Munson.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders led by Shelley Roberts, boosted their team to a 7 win 3 loss record. These enthusiastic girls put pin-ups on the lockers of the football boys, made signs, and decorated the goal posts. The girls got to out of town games by way of Miss Carol Beseda, their sponsor.

Freshman Cheerleaders

Nancy Kee, Patricia Miksovsky, Vicki Starks, Sharon Guthman, and Lynn Shaw.

The Freshman cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Diane Scott and led by Patricia Miksovsky, exploded enough fury in the football team to fire them on to a 7 win 2 tie record this season.

The Victory Cadets

The officers of the Pep Squad were Mildred Jenkins, Pres.; Melinda Wilson Vice-Pres; Rose Berryhill, Treas.; and Sammie Plummer, Sec. The sponsors were Miss Scott and Miss Beseda.

The main purpose of the Pep Squad was to support the athletes through the student body. The Pep Squad also gave girls a purpose.

The Pep Squad meetings were once a week during football season. Extra meetings were called if needed. Every member had a uniform.

The uniforms were purple jumpers with a long sleeve white blouse, white socks and white tennis shoes. This year the girls in the Pep Squad had Pom-Poms.

The Pep Squad listens to the band, while waiting the arrival of the football team, during Homecoming Pep Rally.

The 1966-67 Wildcat Basketball team was the most successful team Angleton has produced in recent years. Coach Johnny Scheer's round-ballers were 21-8 for the year and 8-4 in district, good for second place in power packed District 11-AAA.

Basketball is definitely on the rise in Angleton and this year's success leaves hopes for even a better record next year.

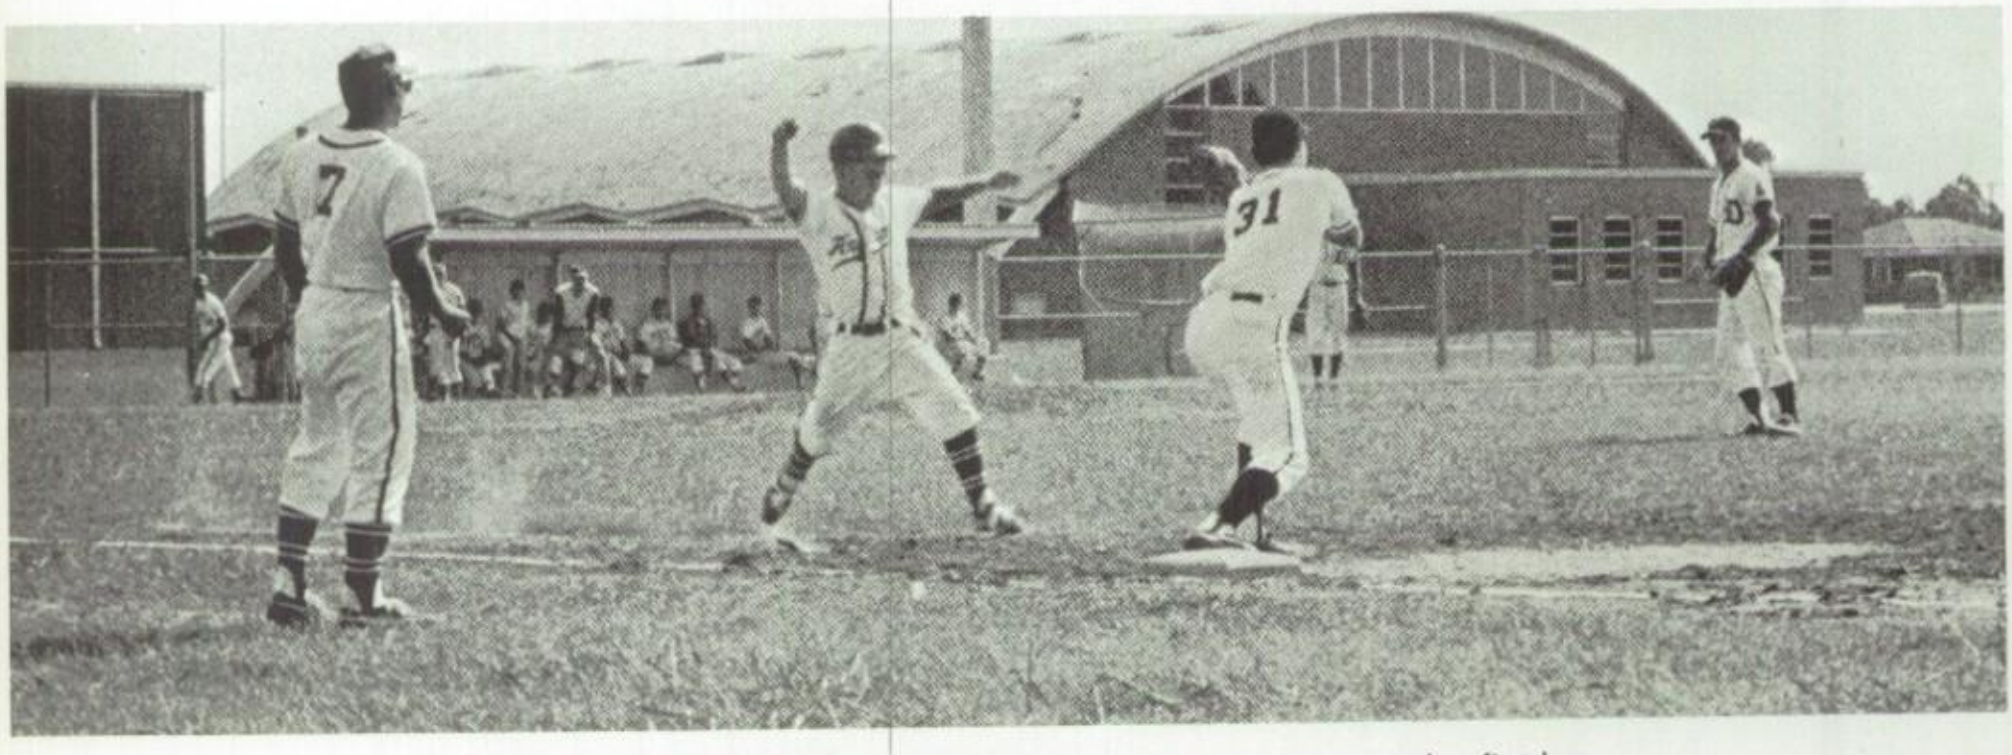
Coach Kenneth Malatek announced eleven varsity lettermen and nine B-team lettermen following the 1967 campaign in which the Wildcats posted a 12-11 won and loss record and placed fourth in the District 11-AAA baseball race with a 5-6 mark.

Heading up the list of varsity letter winners are five seniors—Jerry Benedict, Gary Bingham, Gerald Hendrick, Eddie Jacobson and John Morgan.

Six lettermen will be returning next year. They are juniors Cary Barton, Danny Edwards, and Anthony Ivy, sophomores John McNevin and Cary Sheffield and freshman Ricky Starks.

Also returning will be B-team lettermen Walter Brown, Ken Hewitt, Mike Stanley, Alton Westberry, Steven Brothers, Leonard Rice, Terry Westbrook, David Creech and Dennis Thacker.

The varsity baseball team is given a pep-talk before the game by Coach Malatek.



Jerry Benedict runs hard to beat out throw to first base. Walter Brown coaches first base.

Jerry Benedict takes a practice swing before going to bat.

Wildcats are shown with the opposition after the game giving a customar handshake.

Danny Edwards is an outfielder for the Wildcats. Jerry Benedict and Mike Stanley are both second basemen.

AHS Girls Varsity Basketball

"Victory means work all year long" is the motto of all girls on the Angleton High School Basketball teams. Being a member requires many hours of drills, scrimmages and games. Besides playing, the girls also sponsored the concession stand at each home game . With the profit they received, they hosted a "B" team tournament and paid for blazers.

At least Miss Fitzgerald is happy.

This the second for an A.H.S. girls track team proved to be a highly successful one. The team set new district records in the 440, 880, and mile relay & the 60 & 100 yard dashes plus high jump. Qualifying for the state meet held in Abilene were Linda Roesler, 60 yd. dash; Carole Yoes, Lisa Borey, Pat Hill, Annette Rongey in mile relay; Frieda Schwienle, Susan Winn, Linda Hackathorn, Linda Roesler in 880 relay; Renae Andrews, Lynne Bergen, Hackathorn, Roesler in 440 relay and Shelly King, high jump. The 440 placed third and King was fourth to give the girls sixth place in the state meet.

Shelly King placed 4th in state with a jump of 4' 10".

Linda Roesler qualified in 440 and 880 relay and 60 yard dash. She was high point individual for this year.

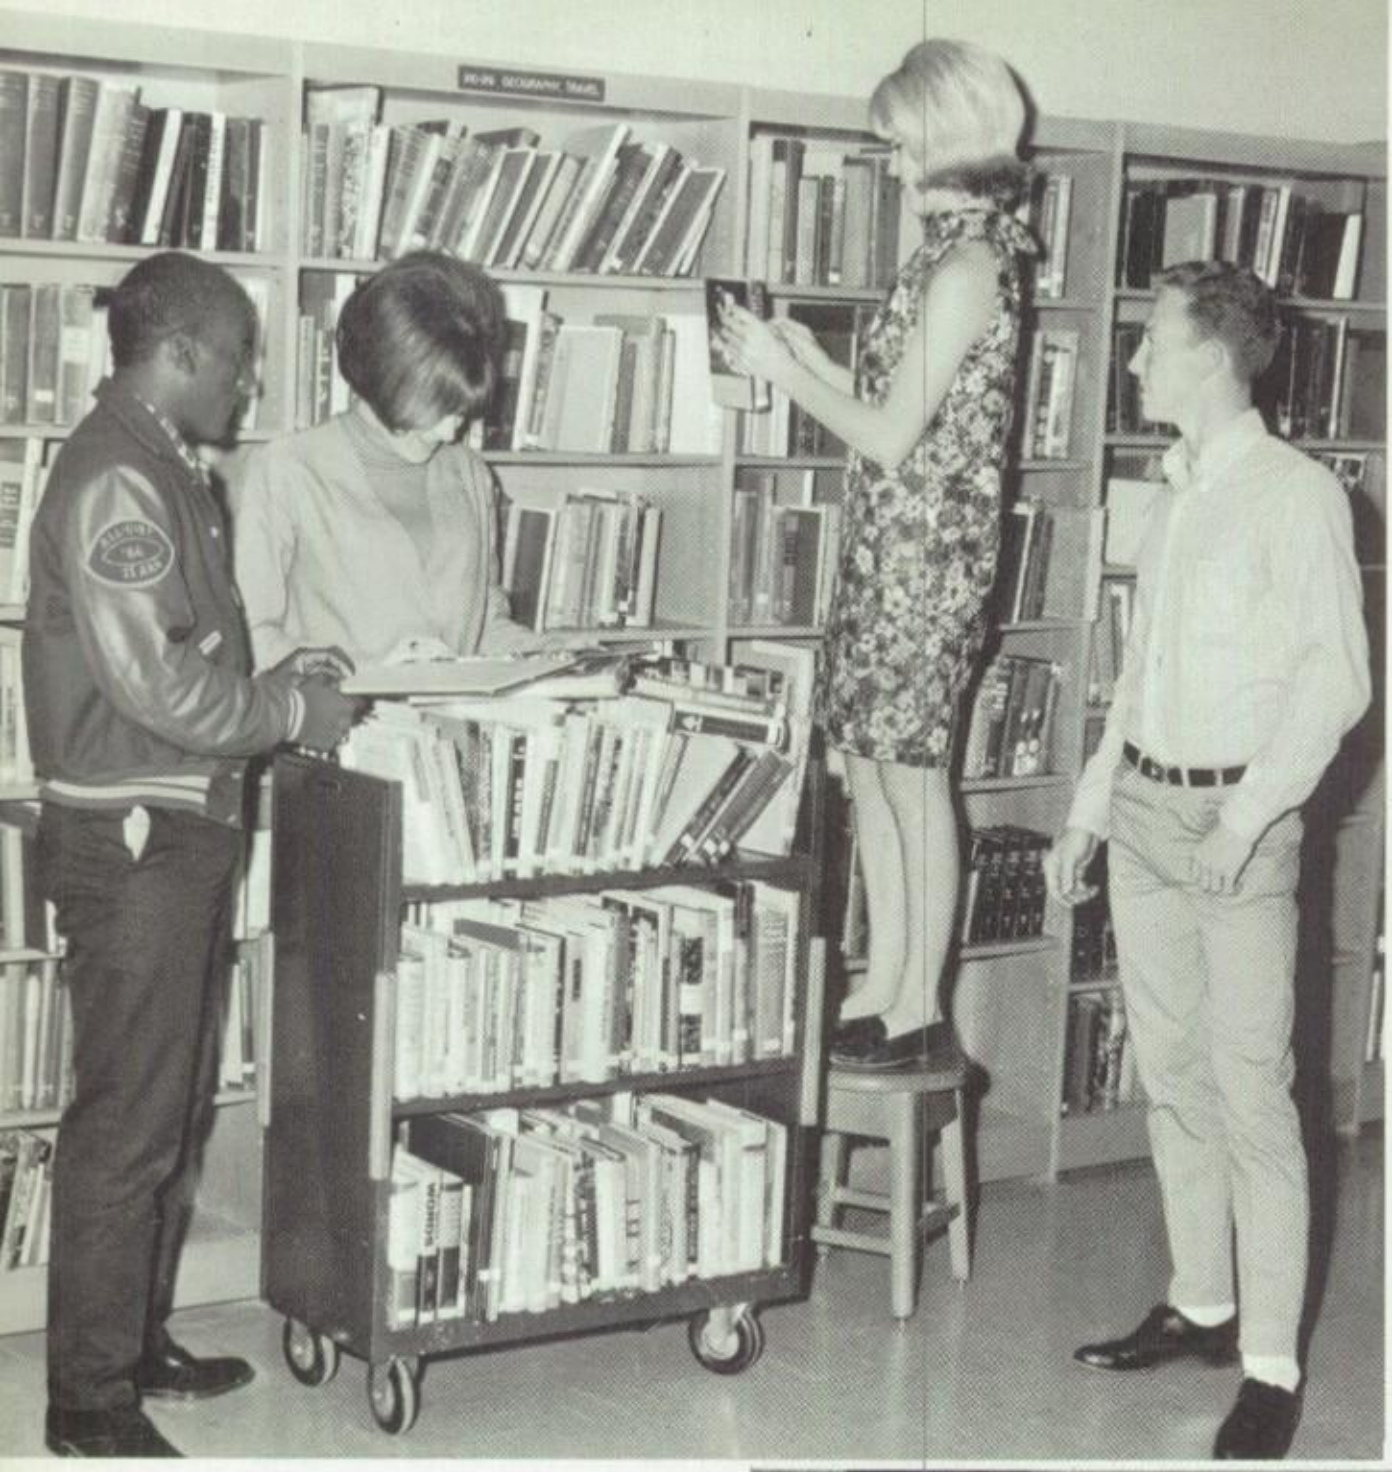
Claudine received the honor of being runner-up fair Queen at the Brazoria County Fair this year. Claudine's float had a Spanish Mission theme.



Senior favorites for '67 were Joe Shelton, Jennie Wilkins, Janice Chamberlain, and Johnny Gustavenson.

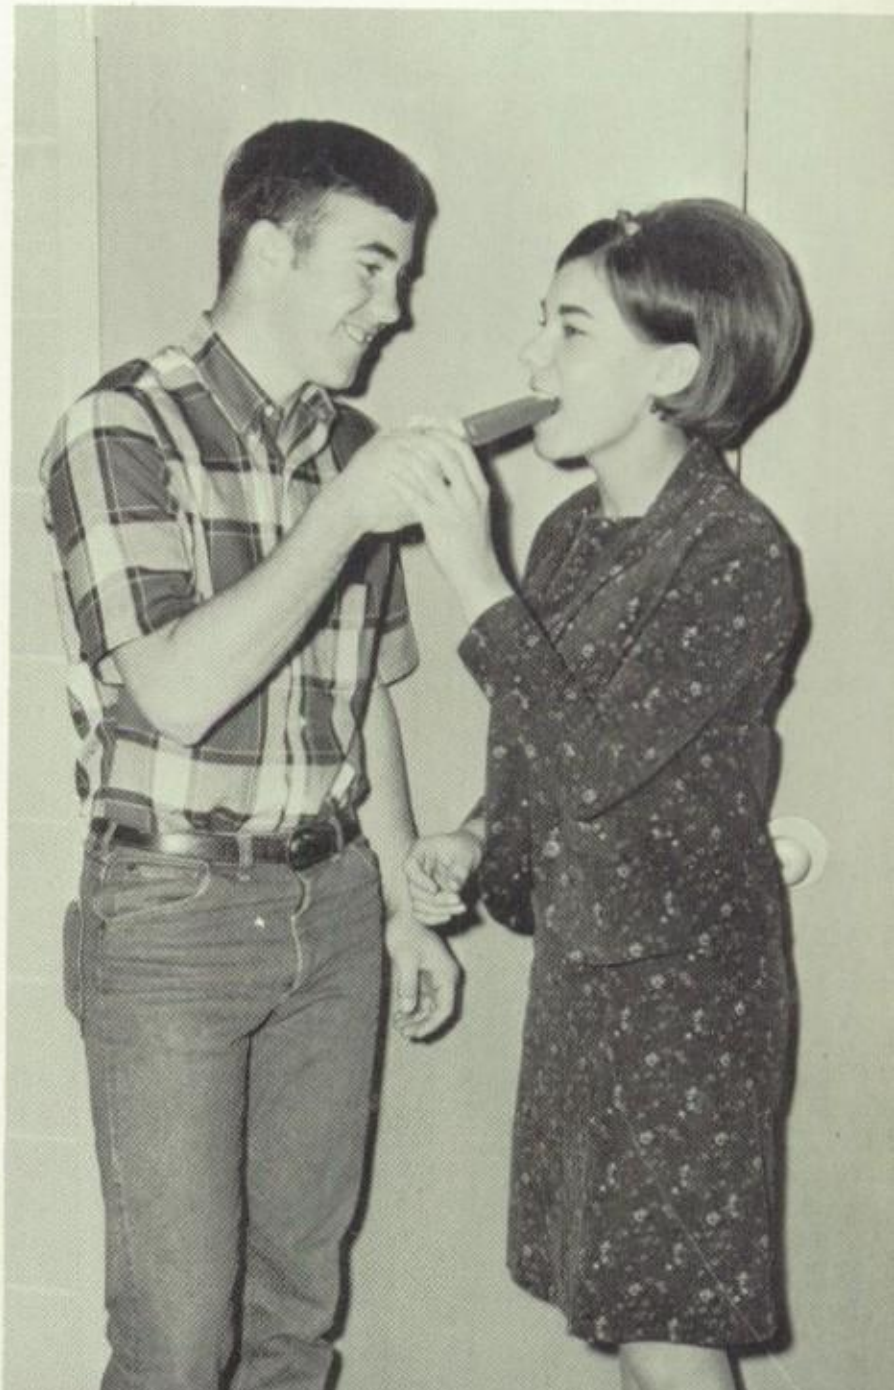
Joe starred on the Wildcat football team and was later chosen as first team All-District fullback. Jennie was active in F.B.L.A. and in Future Teacher's of America. Janice represented A.H.S. very well in basketball. She also held an office in Girl's "A" Club. Johnny was left defensive end for the Varsity Squad and ran hurdles in track.

Senior Favorites

Walter Brown and Rose Berryhill, Jr. Class favorites, are shown working on prom decorations. The Juniors gave the Senior class a beautiful prom with a Grecian theme. Walter participated in football, baseball, and track. He was also chosen as "Football Beau" for the Jr. Powder Puff football team. Rose has served as class officer. She was on the Student Council and in the National Honor Society.

Juniors Favorites

Favorites for the Sophomore class were Cary Sheffield and Sammie Plummer. Cary played defensive tackle for the Jr. Varsity team and also pitched for the baseball team. Sammie was in Victory Cadets and served as an officer. She was class officer, also.



Sophomore and Freshman Favorites

Gail Steele and Charles Stewart were chosen Freshmen class favorites. Gail and Charles both have served as class officers and were on the Student Council. Charles was chosen Student of the Month of October by the National Honor Society. Gail received this honor in January.

Meet Dilek, Our Foreign Exchange Student from Turkey . . .

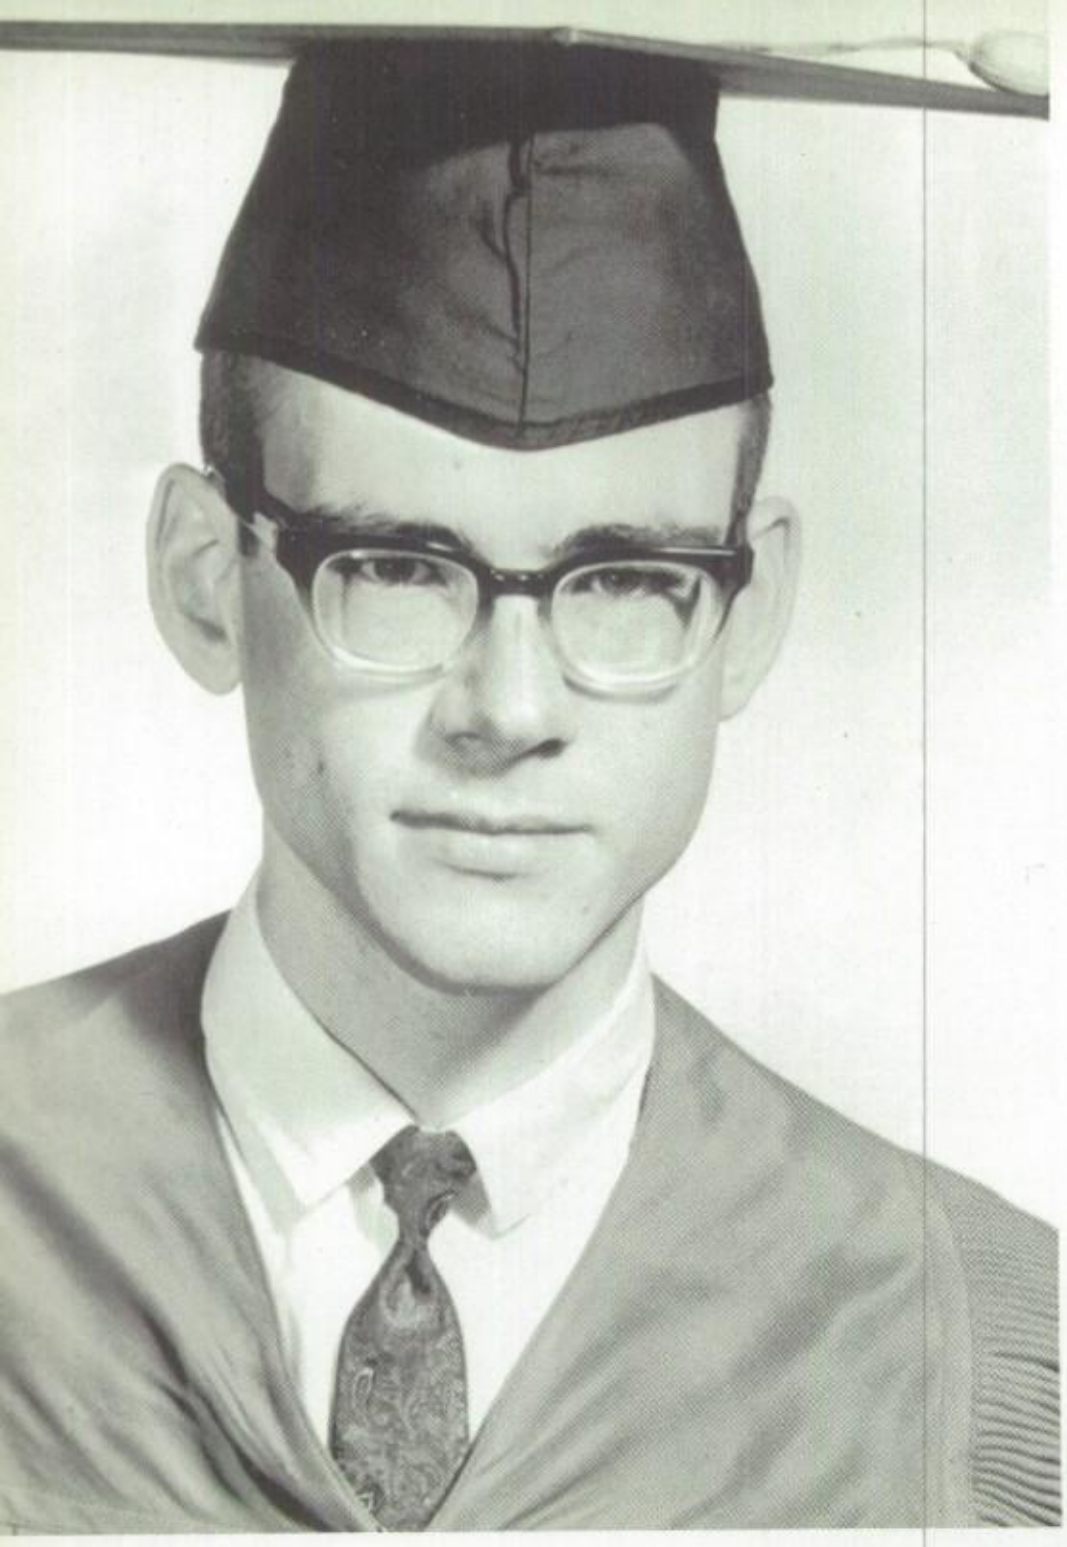
Dilek Karakaplan, through the A.F.S., came to live with the Leeland Kees. She is from Turkey. Her American sisters and brothers were Susan, Nancy, and Berry Kee. Dilek was the first Foreign Exchange Student to visit A.H.S. from Asia. Angleton High School has enjoyed her very much and hopes she will come back to visit us again.

In assembly, Dilek, in her Turkish costume reported on Turkey and their customs.

Dilek talks to one of her many friends over the telephone.

Not all of Dileks stay in Angleton is play. She takes a breather from her school lessons to smile for a picture.

Nancy Kee is Dilek's other sister. Nancy is a Freshman at A.H.S.



Valedictorian

Delbert Burkett

Delbert Burkett, who had a four year scholastic average of 97.5275, was Valedictorian of the 1967 graduating class.

A National Merit Scholar, Delbert was quite active at AHS. He was a member of the National Honor Society and served as president his senior year. He was also a member of the Boys' Debate Team, a delegate to Boys' State in 1966, and a member of the Student Council. Delbert was selected to "Who's Who" of his high school.

Delbert is interested in music and sang in the Angleton choir. He is a member of a local folk singing group.

Delbert plans to attend Abiline Christian College.

James Ray Condry, an active student at Angleton, was named Salutatorian of the 1967 Senior class with a scholastic average of 95.9497.

James held officer positions in the Latin Club and in the Boys' "A" Club. He was a member of the National Honor Society for three years and was vice-president his senior year.

Active in sports, James made All-District First Team Offensive Tackle in football his senior year. In the track field, he set a school record for discus throwing.

He received the honor of being named the senior "Most Likely To Succeed".

James plans to attend Texas A & M and major in civil engineering.

MR. JACK V. MULDROW

Doing a wonderful job at school, at home, and in the community, Mr. Muldrow is in charge of an important part in building today's youth into the leaders of tomorrow.

Taking an active part in the life of our city Mr. Muldrow is a member of the Rotary Club, the State and National Association of Secondary Principals, TSTA, and NEA.

Working with students, cheering the Wildcats, and participating in service clubs prove our principal to be a very efficient and busy man.

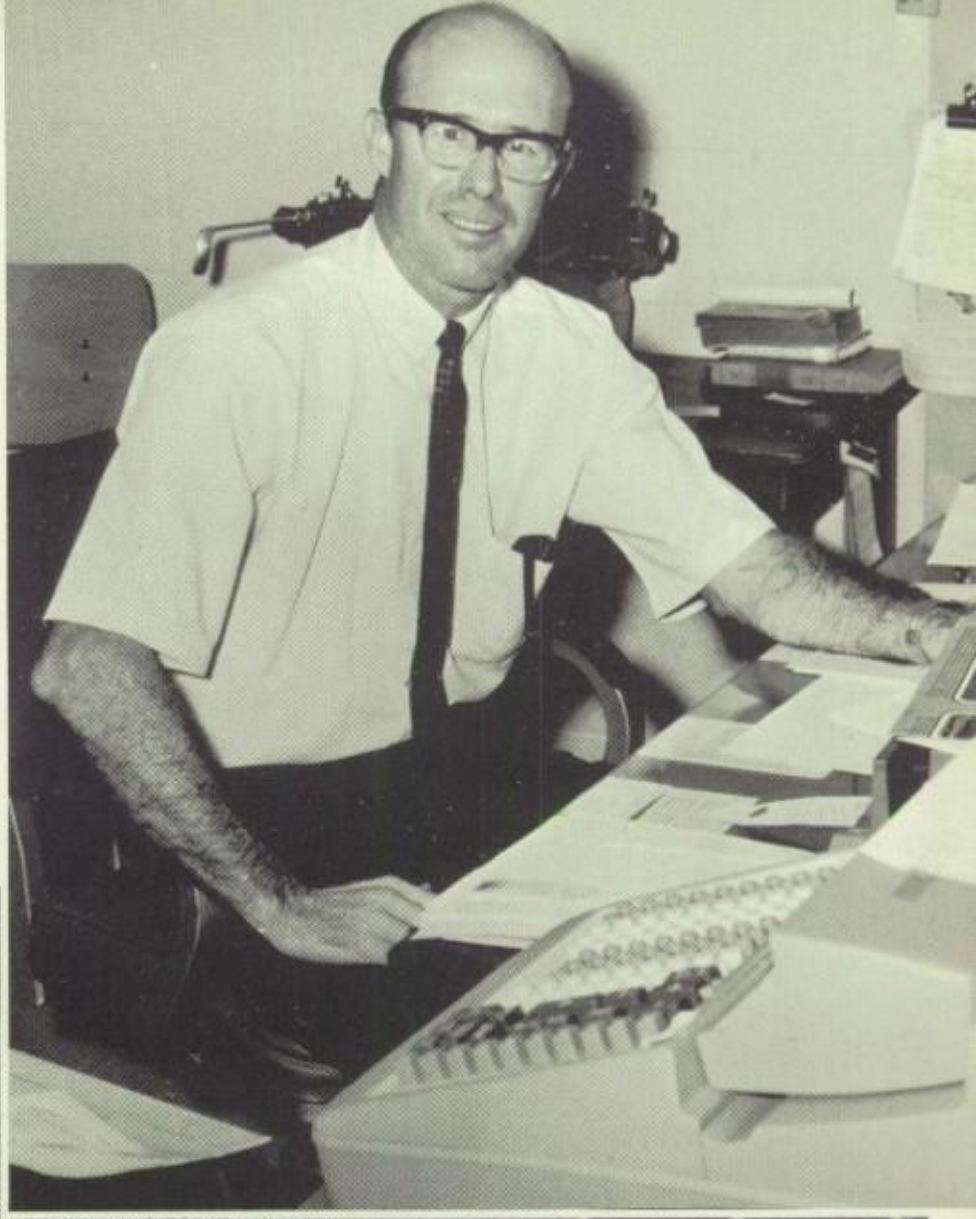
Assistant Principal

MR. MICKY DOMINY

Carrying on his duties with great efficiency, Mr. Dominy serves as Assistant Principal of Angleton High School. One may find him assisting Mr. Muldrow, executing general business around the school, or counseling and disciplining pupils.

Such incidents are only a small part of the busy day of this capable man.

Counselor



MR. JOHN CRAVEN

Proving to be an asset to the staff of Angleton High School as counselor, Mr. Craven assists in arranging schedules and helping students with problems.

This cheerful man has become a favorite of all at AHS. Seniors find him indispensable when they decide on their future, whether it includes a college education or work.

MRS. NELL COPELAND
Registrar

Helping to see that Angleton High School is run smoothly and efficiently, Mrs. Nell Copeland works readily and willingly to assist students, teachers, and administrative in any way whenever they are needed. However, most of her day is spent aiding Mr. Muldrow and Mr. Dominy in the many jobs around AHS.

The office workers each period are a great help to the efficient secretaries.

MRS. CAROL WHITTEN

This year Mrs. Carol Whitten was added to the administration as a teacher's assistant.

She has proven valuable in assisting the teachers and the office in secretarial duties.

High School Secretaries

Principal's Office Staff

Sammie Plummer, Linda Roesler, Pat Donham, Glenda Bagley, Susan Kee, Claudine Blanchard, Cheryl Macon, Maura Mason, Louteal Duke, Nancy Barnes, Cathy Whitten, and Linda Plummer

The work of the office girls is varied and unlimited. It ranges from typing to delivering mail and messages. The girls' main responsibility is picking up the attendance slips and absentee slips each period and keeping the attendance record. Office girls do many errands such as delivering emergency notes to students and messages to teachers. They assist the office personnel in many of their duties. All thse jobs constitute a liberal education in office work.

Counselor's Assistants

Laura Coleman, Judy Easley, Jeanetta Bennett, Frances Sykes, Mr. Craven, Rose Land, Martha Boone, and Kaye Thompson.

The jobs of the counselor's assistants include many areas. The girls keep busy by recording and distributing standardized tests, helping with the student council elections, and typing letters and requisitions. They also assist with pre-registration, checking out college information booklets, and many other jobs.

Librarian

MRS. PAT CRAVEN

This year 2,546 new books were processed and put on our library shelves.

Of these, there were 256 Literature, 307 Fiction, 216 Biography, 213 Social Science, 155 History, 109 General Works, 89 Language, 82 Geography, 44 Short Stories, 24 Religion, and 19 Philosophy.

With the addition of 525 books transfered to our library from Marshall High, the Angleton High School Library now has over 10,000 books.

At the end of the first seven months, the library had a book circulation of 13,388.

The school is proud of the hard work and long hours Mrs. Craven has spent improving our library.

School Nurse

MRS. SAMMIE TAYLOR

Angleton High School had a school nurse available for the first time this school year.

Mrs. Taylor checked the eyes of all the Senior students, gave lectures to the Girls' Physical Education classes, and aided in the school wide TB tests.

The English language has been the vehicle of the world's greatest civilization and of what is generally agreed to be the world's greatest literature.

In the driver's seat of this "vehicle" at AHS, the faculty charts a true course for the students which includes the development of mature readers, thinkers and writers; the acquisition of a better understanding of man, his problems, and triumphs (for only the humanities can give this awareness to the student); and development of self-confidence in the use of the English language in speaking and writing situations that will confront the student now and in adult life.

With "the world as his lab," the social science teacher challenges the student to explore the fields of economics, geography, socialogy, history, and all the aspects of citizenship—political, economic and vocational, social and ethical. Under the careful and thoughful guidance of dedicated instructors, it becomes apparent that history is more than a record of "all we know, or hoped, or felt," but rather the launching pad from which to explore the future—a future where the only constant factor will be that of change.

The science of mathematics—what can it be said to be? This is a question much discussed by philosophers and mathematicians in the course of more than 2,000 years, and especially with deepened interest and insight in our own times. It is not only the oldest science; it is also as new as any, living and flourishing today as never before, advancing in a thousand directions by leaps and bounds. Sophisticated as the theories may seem, actually the science of mathematics is only in the pioneering stage. Current math students may well be known as the pioneers of the future. Our math teachers share a common goal, to provide the opportunity and atmosphere which will enable each student to develop to the maximum of his potential.

CHEMICALS

The history of science, properly written, is more interesting than the history of wars and empires, for it tells the story of the development of human ideas. While all of the sciences may trace their origins to the remotest antiquities, development over the ages has been anything but constant. History tells of those periods when systemized knowledge, truths, and laws all but disappeared from the face of the earth. However, recent developments have been so tremendous that it must be left to the historian one hundred years hence to properly evaluate the achievements.

All future progress will depend upon the availability of trained scientists who acquire the foundation for advanced studies in their high school science classes under the guidance of dedicated instructors.

Unlike some nations where life is cheap or even worthless, America considers the youth of this country its most valuable resource. While some resources can be stockpiled and require little or no attention, the high school years of the young adult are critical to both growth and maturity. Art is a form given by man's imagination to his sensory experience and his life of feeling. However, the imagination of an artist does not work in a void but in an historically concrete world. That is, every artist follows his own tradition. The idea of tradition means that the activity of man never starts from nothing, but from what he has learned from his environment. Mrs. Martin was always willing to help a student solve a problem whether it was mathematical or one that comes from everyday living. One could usually find her at the end of a school day working with a student who was having difficulty with his work.

She showed fairness in all her decicions. Prejudices never influenced her.

In her classes there was always time for a laugh or two and she never failed to laugh along with us.

She was a dedicated sponsor to the Senior class and worked with them throughout the year.

ANGLETON HIGH will miss her.

In Memory of
Mrs. Marjorie Martin

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1967

Class Officers

President	Secretary	Vice President	Reporter	Treasurer
Otis Carrol	Maura Mason	Linda Whatley	Bunny White	Linda Plummer

The Senior year has been a year of guidance. Memories of the four years of high school will always be imprinted in their minds; however, the Senior year may be remembered the most. It may be remembering the last football game or a part in a play. Perhaps it is remembering the joy of Kid Day or the hardness of a physics test.

The Senior class colors for the year 1967 were yellow and white. The yellow rose was selected as the flower to represent the class. The song was "The Impossible Dream." The Senior class selected a motto written by Adlai Stevenson: "We dare not look back to greater yesterdays. We must look forward to greater tomorrows."

THE JUNIORS, NEXT YEAR'S LEADERS

Class Officers

Vice President	Reporter	Treasurer	Secretary	President
Roland Borey	Carole Yoes	Kay Melbert	Kathy Copeland	Steven Vaughan

The Juniors were an active class this year as they participated in many activities throughout the school. They sponsored a Victory Dance to host the home team after the victory of their second home game. In December Junior and Senior girls rallied away on the football field in the Powder Puff football game after which a dance by the Junior Class was given. In February the Juniors worked weeks in advance to host the Seniors for the annual prom and banquet. Finally, as next year's Senior Class, the Juniors proudly ordered their Senior rings.

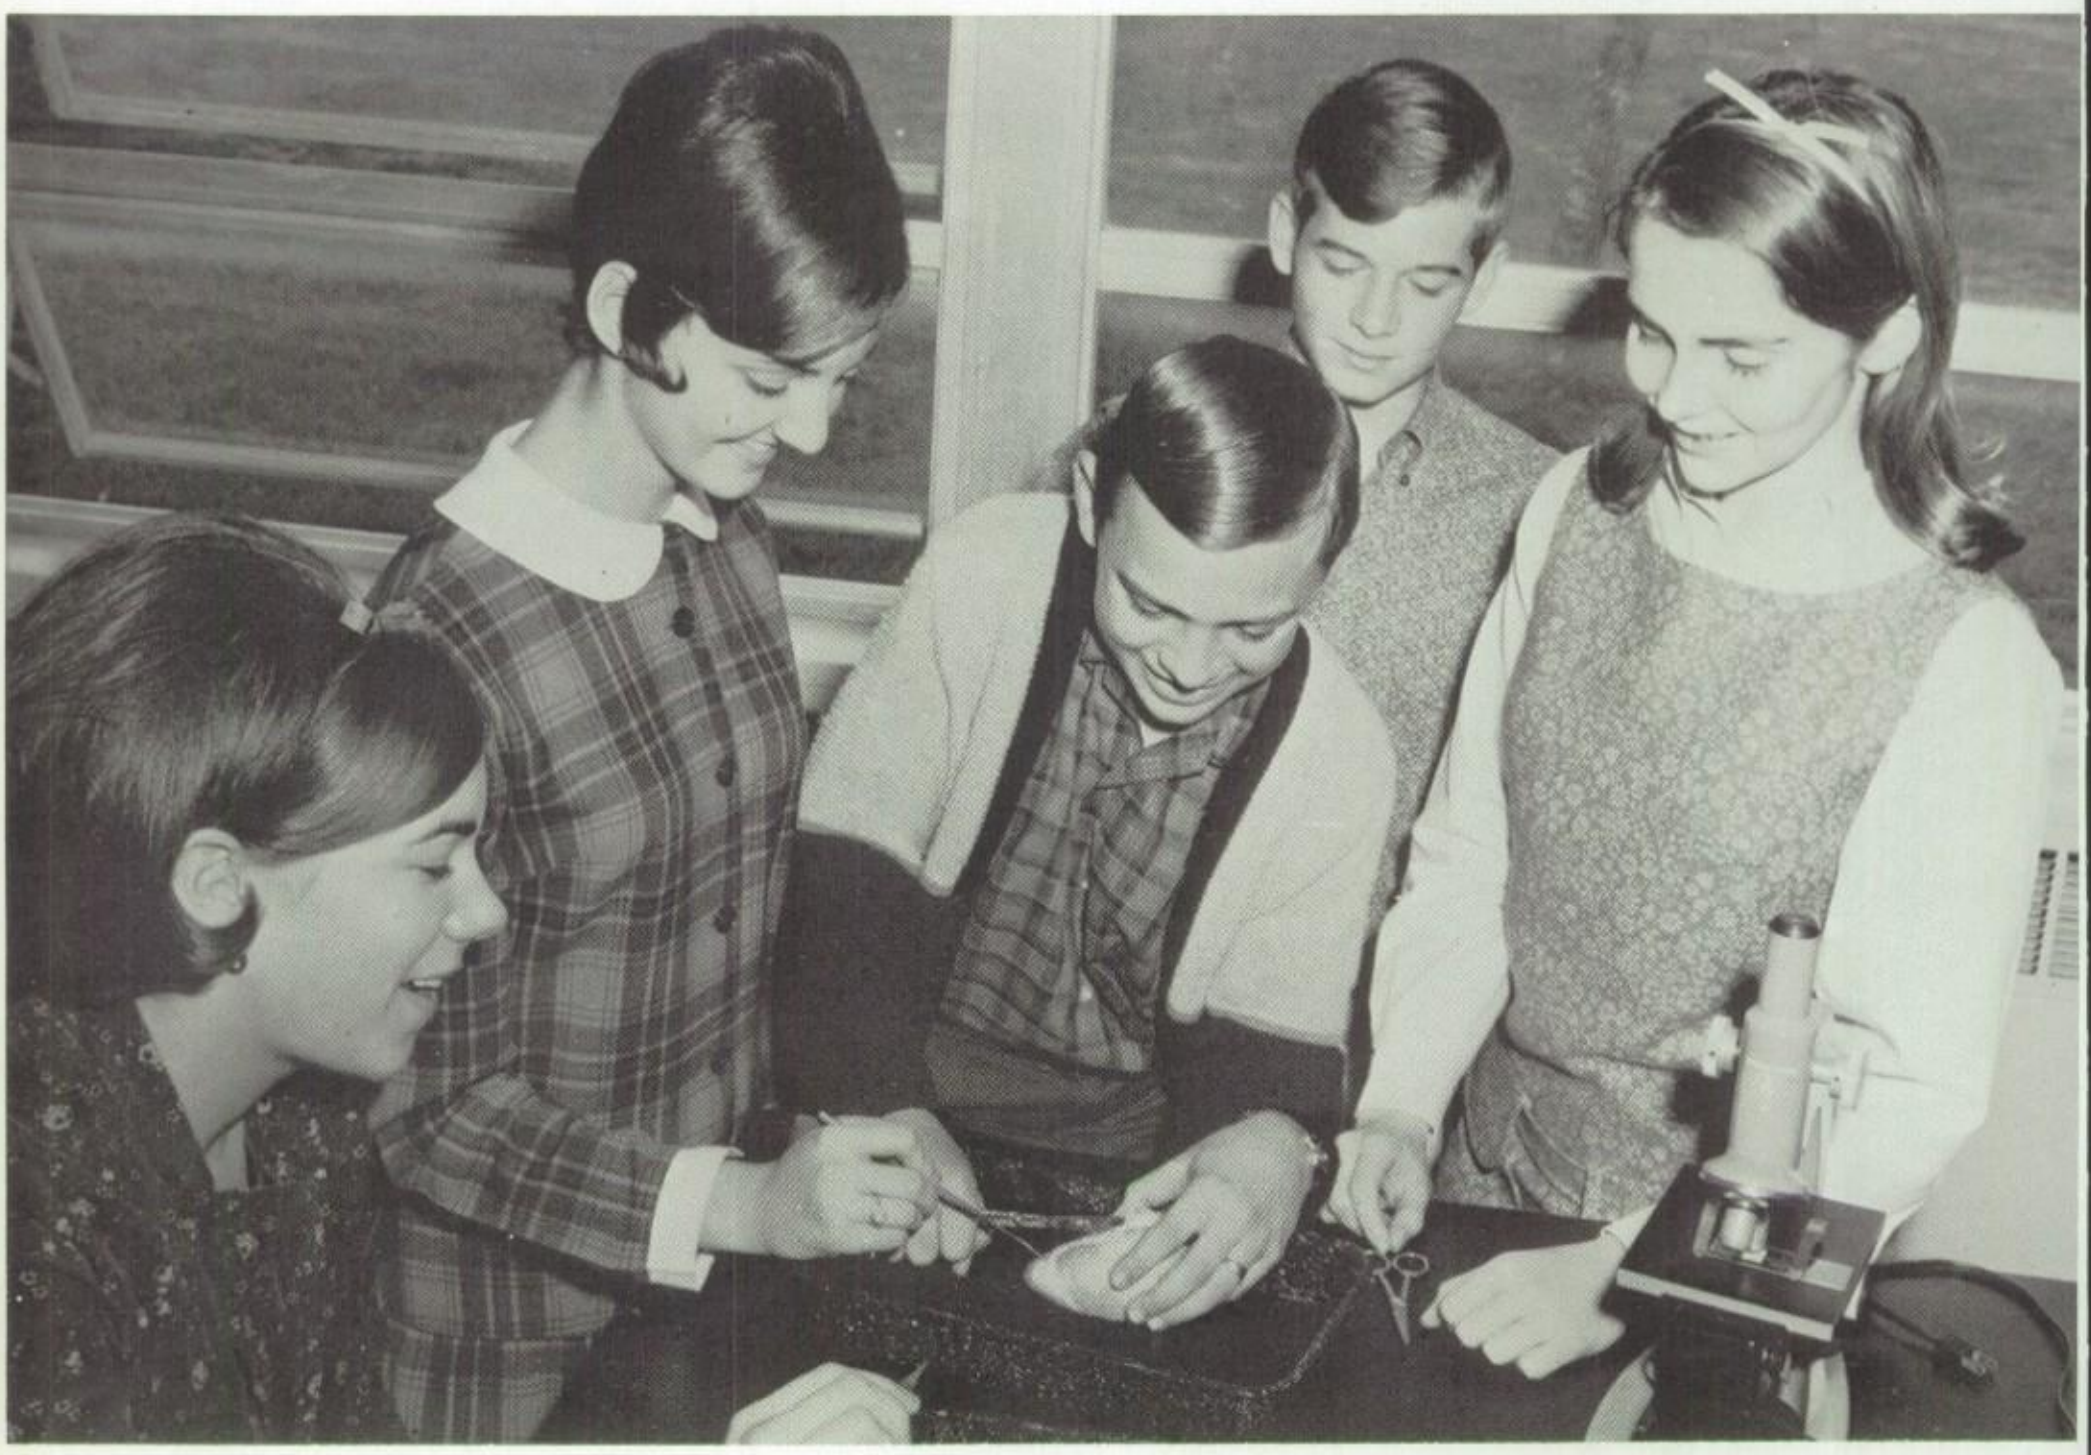
THE SPIRITED SOPHOMORES



Class Officers:

Treasurer	Secretary	Reporter	President	Vice-President
Sammie Plummer	Mary Lynn Lostracco	Artie Roesler	Jim Clark	Lynn Bergen

The sophomore year of an Angleton High School student brought many new experiences. Most sophomores were called upon to take Biology I. This meant a year of dissecting and learning all the systems of the frog.

The sophomores proved to be the most spirited class in A.H.S., winning the spirit stick more than than any others.

While not studying, the sophomores got together for some fun and entertainment. They were honored by having the Patent Pendings play for their annual victory dance.

The required DAT test was given to all tenth grade students. The purpose of this test was to help them understand their abilities better and to see where their strength and weaknesses lie. Then the Kuder test showed them what their job interests were.

The Freshman Class sponsored their first Victory Dance after the Lamar football game. The Brimstones supplied the music.

Mary Jane Jamison, who is the secretary of her class, was elected Queen of Hearts at the Valentines Dance.

Even though the Freshmen do have their little problems, they turned out to have a great football record of eight victories and two ties.

Jimmy Zapalac

The adventures of high school life were a challenge to all the freshmen. Some found this new game easy; others, as you can see, simply gave up the ship(?).

Overcast skies and a parking lot dotted with mud puddles were a familiar sight to freshmen at AHS this year. The cars were there every day. Hundreds of them. Matt Wingo's Thunderbird . . . Chris Sampson's "Old Blue" . . . Richard Palmer's red convertible . . . Barbara Bohot's jeep . . . George Wentzel's motorcycle . . . Jimmy Hail's "been in the family for years" Plymouth . . . Richard Green's rattling pick-up . . . George Truitt's '55 Ford . . . Ron Thomas's car without a grill . . . John English's red '58 Dodge.

WHAT CURIOSITY REALLY BREEDS

MAN IS CURIOUS. And from this curiosity have come the many inventions which help man to control his environment.

The pursuit of knowledge goes back to earliest recorded history. In ancient times, perhaps, it reached its heights with the work of Aristotle. But it was not until the early 17th century that scientific experimentation began when Sir Francis Bacon applied the principles of Aristotle to formal research.

The advances in the science of chemistry have been made by men with inquiring minds, searching out the secrets of the world in which they find themselves.

Until recent times, inventions had been almost an individual effort, and were primarily confined to mechanics. The great advances in the fields of physics and chemistry have come about in the last 150 years, with the industrial revolution.

Organized industrial research began in the 20th century, and the pace of invention quickened. The problems of two world wars gave tremendous impetus to research.

Studies to improve existing products and processes and to develope new ones became paramount. Thus, the development of the automobile, the airplane, plastics, synthetic fibers, and atomic energy have come within the lifetime of many persons living today. In 60 years, America has grown from wagons and gas lamps to television and satellites.

Nowhere, perhaps, is the application of science more evident than in the chemical industry. First, the industry has provided the men, money, and facilities for carrying on the experimental work of research. Second, it has directed this research towards objectives that have substantial economic value; and, third, it has provided plants and developed markets so that the fruits of research could be put to practical use. Today, the chemical industry markets more than 10,000 commercial products.

Even greater progress tomorrow is possible, but only if man retains his burning curiosity and industry has the economic freedom to put millions of dollars into research and plants.

AS LONG AS MAN remains curious, he will find the way to insure that the industry he helps to build retains the freedom that is as vital to its existence as thoughts and profection are vital to the inventive mind.

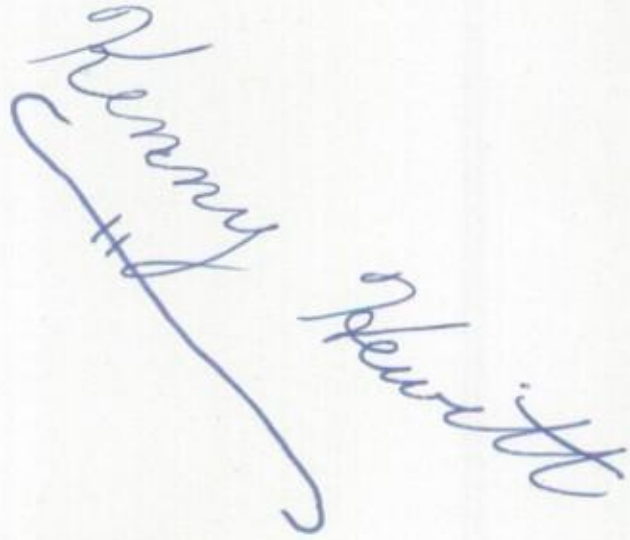
For those for whom this is the very end

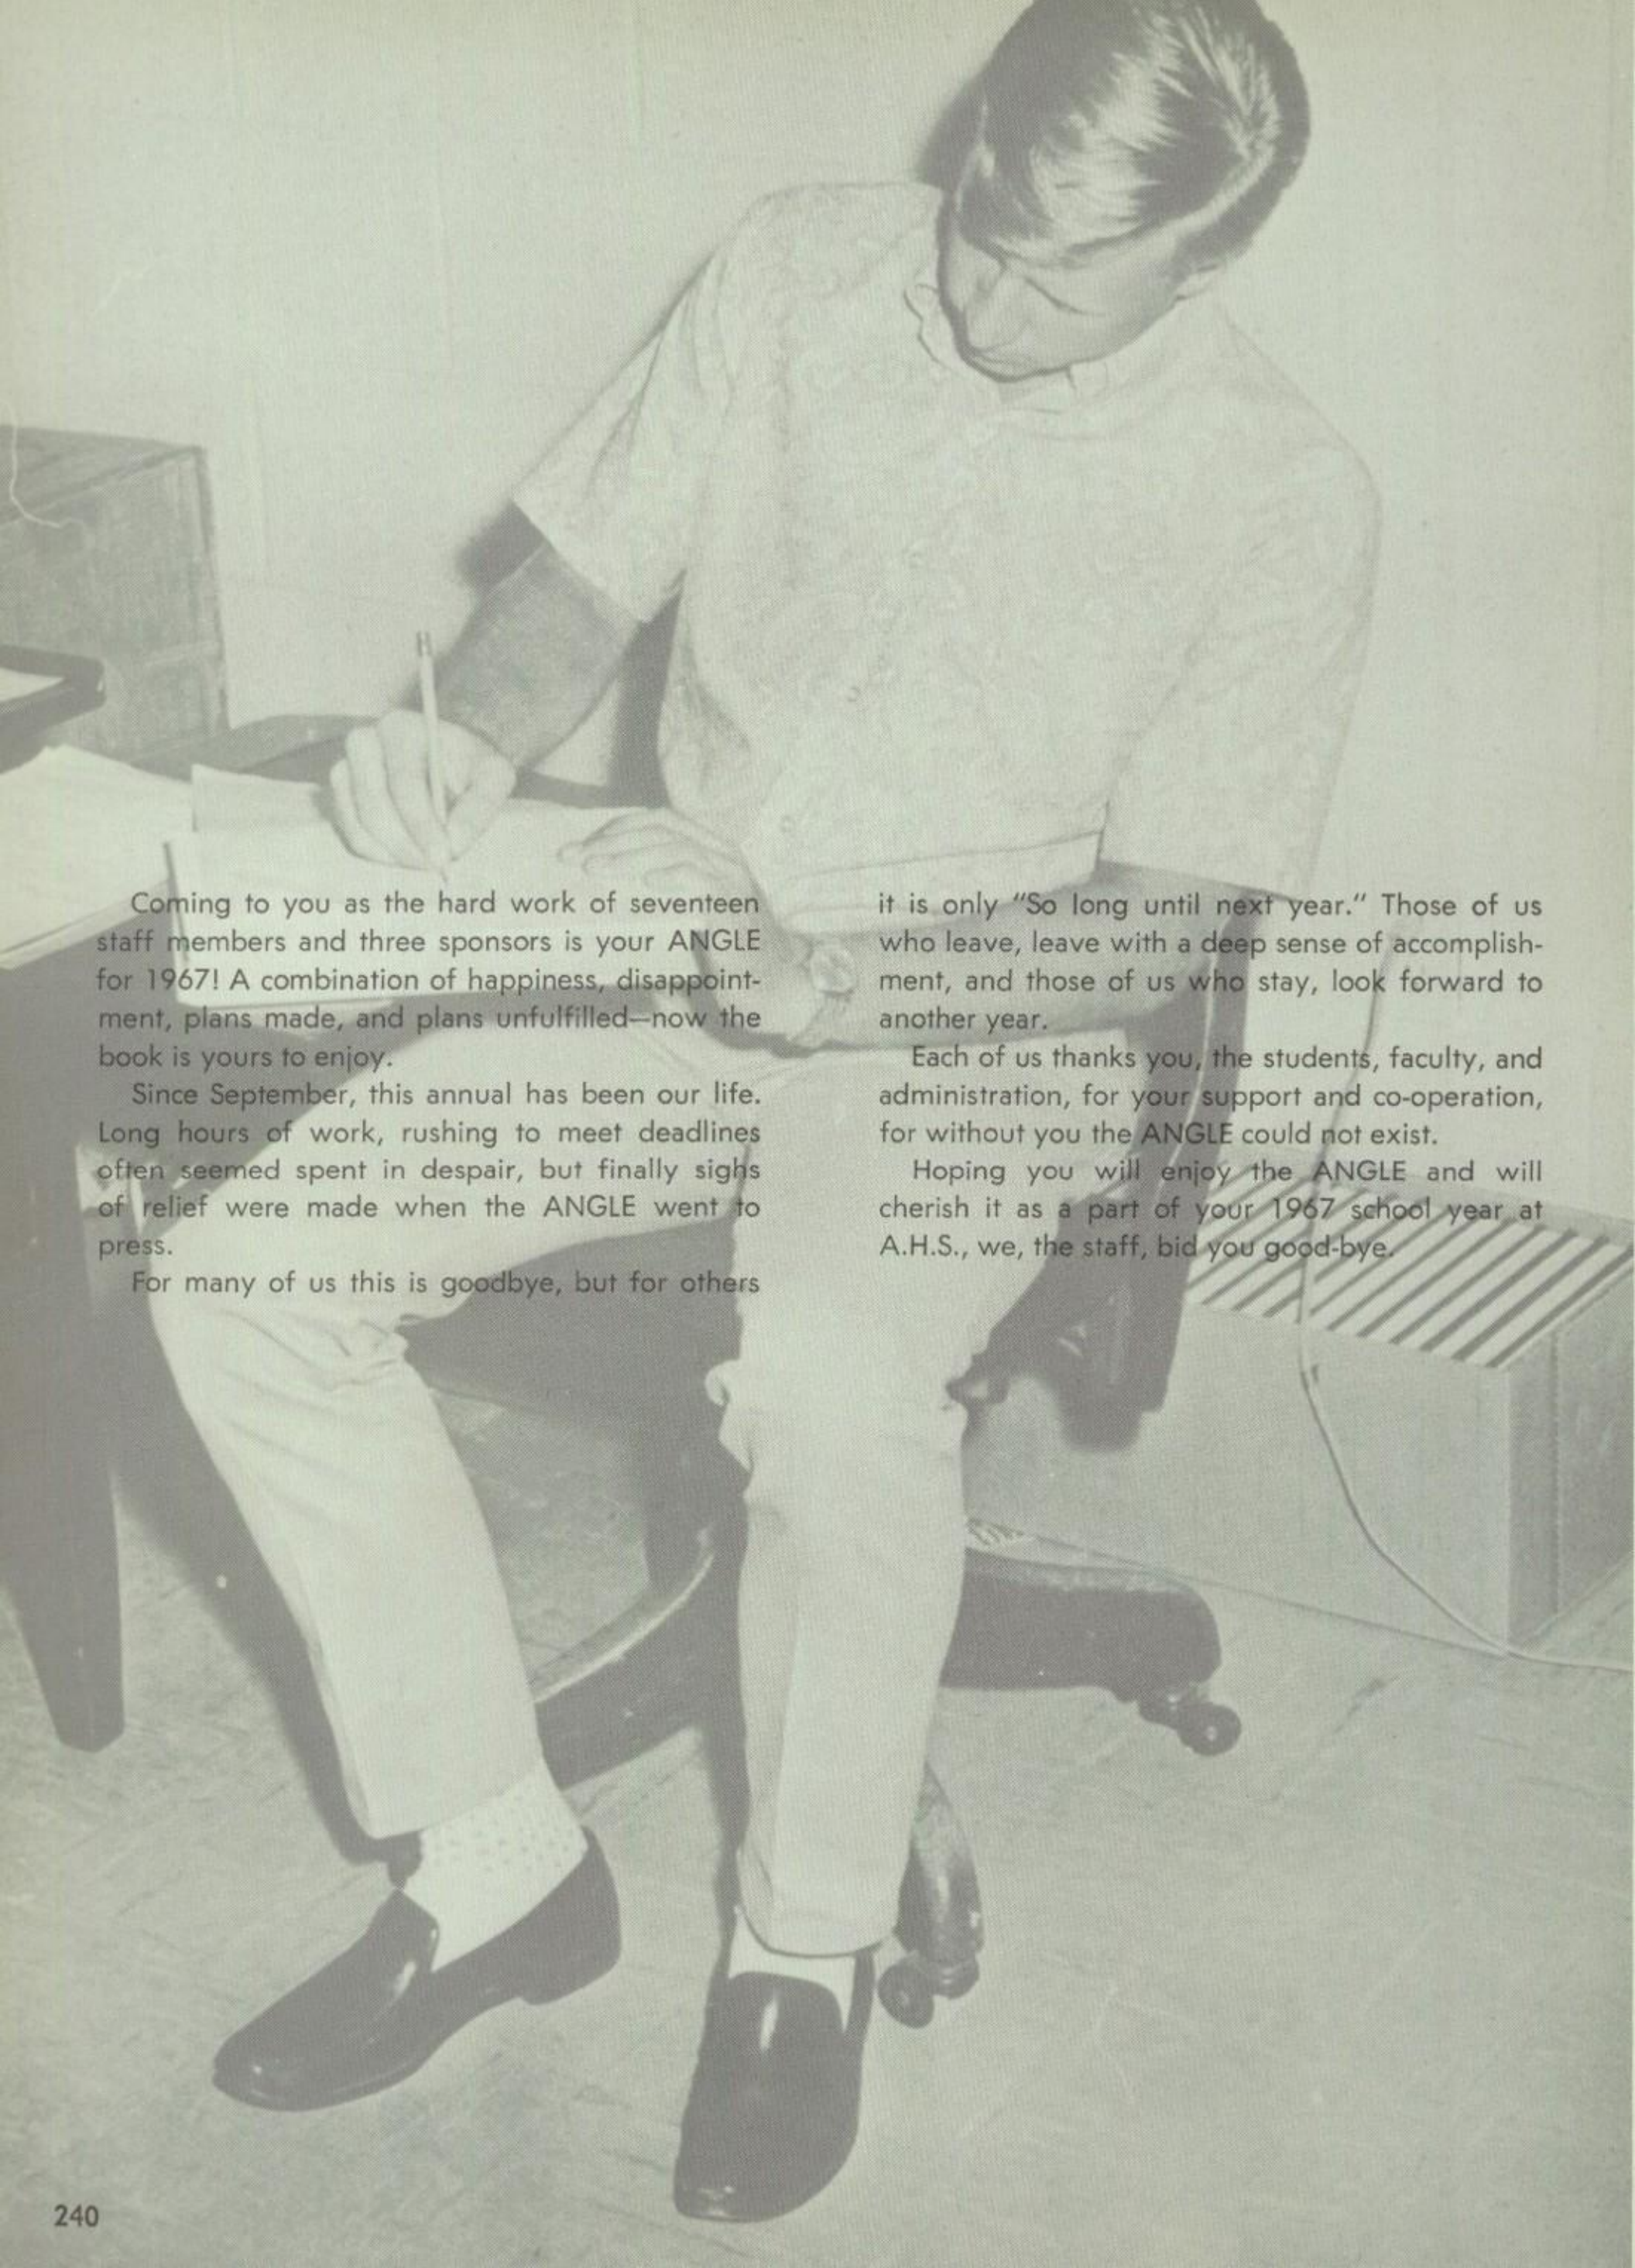
AUTOGRAPHS



Dear Lynne:

I think of you as one of my very dearest friends, and wish you all the luck in the world! May our friendship grow deeper through the years.

Love always;
Ken Hewitt



Coming to you as the hard work of seventeen staff members and three sponsors is your ANGLE for 1967! A combination of happiness, disappointment, plans made, and plans unfulfilled—now the book is yours to enjoy.

Since September, this annual has been our life. Long hours of work, rushing to meet deadlines often seemed spent in despair, but finally sighs of relief were made when the ANGLE went to press.

For many of us this is goodbye, but for others it is only "So long until next year." Those of us who leave, leave with a deep sense of accomplishment, and those of us who stay, look forward to another year.

Each of us thanks you, the students, faculty, and administration, for your support and co-operation, for without you the ANGLE could not exist.

Hoping you will enjoy the ANGLE and will cherish it as a part of your 1967 school year at A.H.S., we, the staff, bid you good-bye.
